Automotive News ,2007    Alternative Exchanges Laurence Fontaine,2008 Exchanges have always had more than economic significance values circulate and encounters become institutionalized. This volume explores the changing meaning of the circulation of second hand goods from the Renaissance to today and thereby examines the blurring of boundaries between market gifts and charity. It describes the actors of the market official entities such as corporations recognized professions and established markets but also the subterranean circulation that develops around the need for money. The complex layers that not only provide for numerous intermediaries but also include the many men and women who as sellers or buyers use these circulations on countless occasions are also examined.
