Artificial Intelligence in Education Vania Dimitrova, Benedict du Boulay, Art Graesser, 2009-06-15 This publication covers papers presented at AIED2009 part of an ongoing series of biennial international conferences for top quality research in intelligent systems and cognitive science for educational computing applications The conference provides opportunities for the cross fertilization of techniques from many fields that make up this interdisciplinary research area including artificial intelligence computer science cognitive and learning sciences education educational technology psychology philosophy sociology anthropology linguistics and the many domain specific areas for which AIED systems have been designed and evaluated AIED2009 focuses on the theme Building learning systems that care from knowledge representation to affective modelling The key research question is how to tackle the complex issues related to building learning systems that care ranging from representing knowledge and context to modelling social cognitive metacognitive and affective dimensions This requires multidisciplinary research that links theory and technology from artificial intelligence cognitive science and computer science with theory and practice from education and the social sciences

Second Handbook of Research on Mathematics Teaching and Learning Frank K. Lester, 2007-02-01 The audience remains much the same as for the 1992 Handbook namely mathematics education researchers and other scholars conducting work in mathematics education This group includes college and university faculty graduate students investigators in research and development centers and staff members at federal state and local agencies that conduct and use research within the discipline of mathematics The intent of the authors of this volume is to provide useful perspectives as well as pertinent information for conducting investigations that are informed by previous work The Handbook should also be a useful textbook for graduate research seminars In addition to the audience mentioned above the present Handbook contains chapters that should be relevant to four other groups teacher educators curriculum developers state and national policy makers and test developers and others involved with assessment Taken as a whole the chapters reflects the mathematics education research community s willingness to accept the challenge of helping the public understand what mathematics education research is all about and what the relevance of their research fi ndings might be for those outside their immediate community
