The drive shaft is often mated to a hub gear which is an internal gear system housed inside the rear hub.

4.3 Specification of drive shaft

- The specifications of the composite drive shaft of an automotive transmission are same as that of the steel drive shaft for optimal design.
- The fundamental natural bending frequency for passenger cars, small trucks, and vans of the propeller shaft should be higher than 6,500 rpm to avoid whirling vibration and the torque transmission capability of the drive shaft should be larger than 3,500 Nm. The drive shaft outer diameter should not exceed 100 mm due to space limitations. Here outer diameter of the shaft is taken as 90 mm. The drive shaft of transmission system is to be designed optimally for following specified design requirements as shown in Table.
