Ambassadors of the Book Raphaële Mouren, 2012-12-19 What competences are needed for heritage librarians and how can they be taught The management of heritage collections requires a unique mix of knowledge and skills including expertise in preservation and conservation heritage policies acquisitions and collection management bibliographic description the materiality of books and other collection objects and the history of libraries Librarians must also understand the need for open access the importance of marketing and the challenges posed by digitization Effing the Ineffable Wesley J. Wildman, 2018-10-01 A meditation on how religious language tries to limn the liminal conceive the inconceivable speak the unspeakable and say the unsayable In Effing the Ineffable Wesley J Wildman confronts the human obsession with ultimate reality and our desire to conceive and speak of this reality through religious language despite the seeming impossibility of doing so Each chapter is a meditative essay on an aspect of life that for most people is fraught with special spiritual significance dreaming suffering creating slipping balancing eclipsing loneliness intensity and bliss These moments can inspire religious questioning and commitment and in extreme situations drive us in search of ways to express what matters most to us Drawing upon American pragmatist Anglo American analytic and Continental traditions of philosophical theology Wildman shows how through direct description religious symbolism and phenomenological experience the language games of religion become a means to attempt and in some sense to accomplish this task This is a fine example of Wildman's way of doing philosophy of religion It demonstrates the importance if not necessity of religious philosophers working comparatively and also the benefits of multidisciplinary inquiry Stephen Dawson Lynchburg College Kurt Wolff Kurt Wolff, 1991-10-11 Kurt Wolff 1887 1963 was a singular presence in the literary world of the twentieth century a cultural force shaping modern literature itself and pioneering significant changes in publishing During an intense active career that spanned two continents and five decades Wolff launched seven publishing houses and nurtured an extraordinary array of writers among them Franz Kafka Lou Andreas Salom Boris Pasternak Günter Grass Robert Musil Paul Valéry Julian Green Lampedusa and Anne Morrow Lindbergh Graphic Design Ellen Lupton, Jennifer Cole Phillips, 2008-05 This guide aims to move students away from a cut and paste mentality and refocus design instruction on the fundamentals of form starting from such basics as point and line in a critical rigorous way informed by contemporary media theory and software systems Constructions of Neuroscience in Early Childhood Education Michel Vandenbroeck, Jan De Vos, Wim Fias, Liselott Mariett Olsson, Helen Penn, Dave Wastell, Sue White, 2017-07-14 What can early childhood scholars learn from neurosciences and its influence on children education policy and practice This book explores and critiques topical debates in educational sciences philosophy social work and cognitive neuroscience It examines constructions of children parents and the welfare state in relation to neurosciences and its vocabulary of brain architecture critical periods and toxic stress Essays from the Edge Martin Jay, 2011-06-10 Over his distinguished career as a European intellectual historian and cultural critic Martin Jay has explored a variety of major themes

the Frankfurt School the exile of German intellectuals in America during the Nazi era Western Marxism the denigration of vision in twentieth century French thought the discourse of experience in modern Europe and America and lying in politics Essays from the Edge assembles Jay's writings from the intersections of this intellectual journey Several essays focus on methodological debates in the humanities and social sciences the limits of interdisciplinarity the issue of national or universal philosophy cultural relativism and visuality and the implications of periodization in historical narrative Others examine the concept of scopophilic regime and the metaphors of revolution and the gardening impulse Among the theorists treated at length are Theodor Adorno Hannah Arendt Jacques Derrida and Michel Foucault The essays also include several of Jay's Salmagundi columns dealing with subjects as varied as the new Museum of Modern Art in New York the impact of Colin Wilson's The Outsider and the demise of the Partisan Review All of these efforts can be considered what Arthur Schopenhauer called to borrow the title of one of his most celebrated collections parerga and paralipomena As essays from the edges of major projects they illuminate Jay's major arguments elaborate points made only in passing in the larger texts and explore ideas farther than would have been possible given the focus of the larger works themselves The result is a lively diverse offering from an extraordinary intellect

Real Likenesses Michael Morris, 2020-05-07 Real Likenesses presents a radical new approach to artistic representation At its heart is a serious reconsideration of the relationship between medium and content in representational art which counters currently dominant theories that make attention to the former inevitably a distraction from attending to the latter Through close analysis of paintings photographs and novels Michael Morris proposes a new understanding of the real likenesses we encounter in representational art what they are how they are made present to us and how they are created The result is an intuitive way of thinking about how these art forms work

Roland Barthes Andrew Brown, 1992 The first serious analysis of Barthes as a writer with specific aesthetic techniques this fresh and original study focuses on some of the ways he discusses the nature of his own writing The first two chapters examine the key but ambiguous term of derrière drift a word which raises questions about how exactly Barthes's writing develops across three decades about the scientific legitimacy of his concepts and about his own frequently fraught relation to the scientific discourses around him especially psychoanalysis Two typical discursive maneuvers that structure his writing naming and framing are then shown to generate particular aesthetic effects which cause complications for some of his theoretical stances Barthes's fascination for the idea that all writing is a kind of scribble closer to the visual arts than to speech is investigated in depth and his latent animosity against speech as such is made manifest The final chapter suggests that for Barthes the real can leave its mark on writing only as a disturbing indeed traumatic trace

The Human Science of Communicology Richard L. Lanigan, 1992 Communicology is the study of human discourse in all of its forms ranging from human gesture and speech to art and television Communicology also represents the dominant qualitative research paradigm in the discipline of human communication especially in the applied areas of mass communication philosophy of communication and speech communication Lanigan's work offers the bold and original thesis that Michel Foucault's thematic study of the discourse of desire and power is an elaboration of the problematic discourse explicated in Maurice Merleau-Ponty's interrogation of freedom and terror Various chapters cover such topics as art versus science culture and communication modernity versus postmodernity feminism versus humanism research methodology and the capta versus data distinction for research validity Actual examples of research cover the aesthetics of painting and sculpture radio and television rhetorical criticism of oral and written texts and the East-West perspective on cross-cultural encounter all using the approach of semiotic phenomenology Two special features of this book make it useful for both teacher and scholar alike First Lanigan provides an encyclopedic dictionary that illustrates and defines the theory and method of the human sciences in general and the discipline of communicology in particular Used for several years by teachers in a number of universities this dictionary had already become a classic among students before its publication here Second Lanigan analyzes and illustrates what has been missing for years in the study of Foucault's work a definition with appropriate illustrative figures and tables of Foucault's method of archaeology and genealogy criticism for research in the human sciences especially in the study of human discourse

Studies on Voltaire and the Eighteenth Century Theodore Besterman, 1982 The Middle Room Jennifer Moxley, 2007 Cultural Writing Memoir Moxley's detailed and lushly written memoir is set largely in San Diego and follows her life thus far from childhood to marriage Consistently focused on poetry and poets it dwells on the curious ways Americans now find their way into the literary life There was a secret force deep in my psyche which like a Cold War double agent worked in tandem with my insecurity a sort of wicked interior spy that emerged at the most inopportune moments to make sport of all my fears and fill me with crippling self-doubt as regards my natural fitness to live the life of the mind from the text Jennifer Moxley teaches creative writing and literature at the University of Maine Her books of poetry include
