

The controversy concerning point shooting versus sighted fire is over. And the winner is you. After years of field-tested research, and lead-line expert Andy Stamford and point-shooting authority Michael Johnson have combined their talents to show you exactly how the point shooting and sighted line can coexist. But how they can be synthesized to yield a superior state-of-the-art shooting technique. The authors first identify the basic skill set that enables shooters to get shots on target using skeletal and centline alignment rather than muscular coordination. Building upon this foundation, they then introduce the concepts of a coarse visual indicator and finally practical combat-effective sighted fire. Throughout the process, they highlight the errors and dangers of the real-world threats you may face and teach you the difference between being a shooter, a gunfighter, a true fighter with a gun. This video includes rare archival footage and little-known insights into the history of modern combat shooting and is must viewing for all serious students of combative pistolcraft.
