Conceptualizing Iranian Anthropology Conceptualizing Iranian Anthropology:

Conceptualizing Iranian Anthropology Shahnaz R. Nadjmabadi, 2009 During recent years attempts have been made to move beyond the Eurocentric perspective that characterized the social sciences especially anthropology for over 150 years A debate on the anthropology of anthropology was needed one that would consider other forms of knowledge modalities of writing and political and intellectual practices This volume undertakes that challenge it is the result of discussions held at the first organized encounter between Iranian American and European anthropologists since the Iranian Revolution of 1979 It is considered an important first step in overcoming the dichotomy between peripheral anthropologies versus central anthropologies The contributors examine from a critical perspective the historical cultural and political field in which anthropological research emerged in Iran at the beginning of the twentieth century and in which it continues to develop today

Nomadism in Iran Daniel T. Potts, 2014 Potts examines the development of nomadism in Iran over the course of three millennia Evidence of nomadism in prehistory is examined and found insufficient to justify claims of its great antiquity The background of the earliest nomadic groups identified as Persian tribes by Herodotus is examined within the context of the migration of Iranian speakers onto the Iranian plateau in the late second or early first millennium B C Thereafter evidence of nomadic groups in Late Antiquity and early Islamic times is reviewed

Methodologies of Mobility Alice Elliot, Roger Norum, Noel B. Salazar, 2017-05-01 Research into mobility is an exciting challenge for the social sciences that raises novel social cultural spatial and ethical questions At the heart of these empirical and theoretical complexities lies the question of methodology how can we best capture and understand a planet in flux Methodologies of Mobility speaks beyond disciplinary boundaries to the methodological challenges and possibilities of engaging with a world on the move With scholars continuing to face different forms and scales of mobility this volume strategically traces innovative ways of designing applying and reflecting on both established and cutting edge methodologies of mobility

Minorities in Iran R. Elling, 2013-02-18 Based on the premise that nationalism is a dominant factor in Iranian identity politics despite the significant changes brought about by the Islamic Revolution this cross disciplinary work investigates the languages of nationalism in contemporary Iran through the prism of the minority issue

Political Anthropology, 1983 Politics of Culture in Iran Nematollah Fazeli, 2006-08-21 This first full length study of the history of Iranian anthropology charts the formation and development of anthropology in Iran in the twentieth century The text examines how and why anthropology and culture became part of wider socio political discourses in Iran and how they were appropriated and rejected by the pre and post revolutionary regimes The author highlights the three main phases of Iranian anthropology corresponding broadly to three periods in the social and political development of Iran the period of nationalism lasting approximately from the constitutional revolution 1906 11 and the end of the Qajar dynasty until the end of Reza Shah s reign 1941 the period of Nativism from the 1950s until the Islamic revolution 1979 the post revolutionary period In addition the book places Iranian anthropology in an international context by demonstrating how Western anthropological concepts theories and methodologies affected epistemological and political discourses on Iranian anthropology Iran Hamid R. Kusha, 1987 In the first part of this paper women's crucial role in development processes of developing countries is acknowledged In the second part of the paper the case of Iran as a male dominated society under the Pahlavi and the theocratic regime of Ayatollah Khomeini is analyzed It is argued that both regimes failed to resolve the issue of women's democratic participation in the affairs of a male dominated society It is further argued that the revolutionary Marxist Leninist forces in Iran have posited the issue in the context of infra and super structure mechanism without due consideration for the element of power differentials between the sexes Finally the position of the Islamic left that is that of the People's Mojahedin Organization of Iran is discussed It is argued that this Organization by adopting a dynamic stance with respect to the Quranic verses and proclamations has not only attracted a record number of Iranian women to its rank and file but also has posited the problematic in the right direction though its resolution is far from any concrete eventualities Abstracts in
