Objects under International Humanitarian Law: Towards a Paradigm Shift Francesca Capone, 2025-05-29 This book deals with a crucial and yet under-explored topic that has increasingly gained momentum during modern armed conflicts i.e. dual-use objects under international humanitarian law (IHL). Dual-use objects such as energy infrastructures, water installations, and civilian means of transportation and communication which could be used also for military purposes is a term that has entered the IHL jargon but has not attained the status of a legal concept. Dual-use objects are easily identifiable and yet remain difficult to pin down in particular when it comes to separating them from military objectives and determining the applicable rules to enhance their protection. Although attacks against critical infrastructures are traditionally justified as being part of a legitimate military strategy, experts and in some instances governments are uncomfortable with the idea of depriving the civilian population of services and goods essential to its survival. Yet the sense of discomfort has not led to any significant improvement and dual-use objects remain on the target lists of most belligerents. A number of factors which this book analyses to explain the rise and rationale behind the current mainstream approach to dual-use objects contributed to cementing the status quo. The present book, building on these premises, pursues a twofold aim. First, this book seeks to fill a significant gap in the IHL scholarship in light of the limited attention that the topic has received so far. Second, this book aims to challenge the mainstream approach through a rigorous inquiry and the development of a new paradigm. The paradigm shift which is at the heart of this study places under the spotlight the civilian function of dual-use objects and reclaim the central role of the individual actors that plan, order, and execute attacks against these targets. This book aspires to become an essential tool for academics and practitioners working in the IHL field but at the same time its readership is expected to include students at all levels that have an interest in the topic and seeks to approach it in an innovative way. Identifying the Enemy Emily Crawford,2015-07-23 Over the past twenty five years significant changes in the conduct of wars have increasingly placed civilians in traditional military roles employing civilians to execute drone strikes the targeted killing of suspected terrorists the use of private security contractors in combat zones and the spread of cyber attacks Under the laws of armed conflict civilians cannot be targeted unless they take direct part in hostilities Once civilians take action they become targets This book analyses the complex question of how to identify just who those civilians are Identifying the Enemy examines the history of civilian participation in armed conflict and how the law has responded to such action It asks the crucial question what is direct participation in hostilities The book slices through the attempts to untie this Gordian knot and shows that the changing nature of warfare has called into question the very foundation of the civilian military dichotomy that is at the heart of the law of armed conflict    Israel Yearbook on Human Rights, Volume 43 (2013) Yoram Dinstein,2021-10-11 The Israel Yearbook on Human Rights an annual published under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of Tel Aviv University since 1971 is devoted to publishing studies by distinguished scholars in Israel and other countries on human rights in peace and war with particular emphasis on problems relevant to the State of Israel and the Jewish people The Yearbook also incorporates documentary materials relating to Israel and the Administered Areas which are not otherwise available in English including summaries of judicial decisions compilations of legislative enactments and military proclamations    Proceedings of the American Society of International Law at Its ...annual Meeting American Society of International Law,2009    Hand-book of International Law Edwin Forbes Glenn,1895
