Caring For Your Historic House:

Caring for Your Historic House Heritage Preservation,1998-10 A house is considered historic if it is typical of its period usually more that 50 years old and significant in either design materials workmanship setting and or association This work provides advice on the ongoing care and maintenance of such properties and in the preservation of the qualities which make such homes unique

Caring for Your Old House Judith L. Kitchen,1991-04 Gives advice to old house owners on rehabilitation and restoration

Historic House Museums Sherry Butcher-Youngmans,1993 Historic house museums can be found in nearly every city in the United States and Canada These are the homes of the earliest settlers statesmen frontiersmen great writers artists architects and industrial magnates These are the places carefully saved and preserved that represent a cultural heritage Despite their popularity it is not uncommon to find museums that are in poor repair their collections neglected and their staffs grossly overworked Many are run by well meaning and hard working volunteers who have little or no professional training Often they survive on shoestring budgets and are able to present only limited programs Serving both as a hands on guide and reference this book examines these problems offering practical advice and solutions which can be easily implemented Its useful lessons include governance where to find help care of collections conservation security and interpretation all designed to increase the professionalism of the historic house museum

Preventive Conservation for Historic House Museums Jane Merritt,Julie A. Reilly,2010-01-16 Preventive Conservation for Historic House Museums is a primer on the preventive care practices that these unique sites need to slow the rate of deterioration and prevent damage and wear to the property and its collections It proposes a collaborative approach to preservation planning that is based on interdisciplinary research critical thinking and observation rather than rote maintenance schedules and everyday residential cleaning practices The authors recommend that sites have documents and plans in place that direct the intellectual and physical control of the collections and site The intellectual controls include administrative and management policies and procedures the physical controls include security and safety precautions routine maintenance and cleaning practices among others Historic house administrators staff board members and volunteers will find this volume indispensable Professionals who deal with historic sites from the museum administrator or curator to architect to engineer as well as students pursuing studies in the field of preservation and conservation will also find this a valuable reference This volume promotes a pro active approach to preservation planning for historic sites and their collections

Old-House Journal ,1999-03 Old House Journal is the original magazine devoted to restoring and preserving old houses For more than 35 years our mission has been to help old house owners repair restore update and decorate buildings of every age and architectural style Each issue explores hands on restoration techniques practical architectural guidelines historical overviews and homeowner stories all in a trusted authoritative voice

New England Historic Nantucket ,1999 Directory of Historic House Museums in the United States Patricia Chambers Walker, Thomas Graham, 2000 The first comprehensive guide to America s historic house museums this directory moves beyond merely listing institutions to providing information about interpretive themes historical and architectural significance collections and cultural and social importance along with programming events and facility information Useful cross reference guides provide quick and easy ways of locating information on almost 2500 museums A multi functional reference for museum professionals local historians historic preservationists or anyone interested in America s historic house museums How to Weed Your Attic Elizabeth H. Dow, Lucinda P. Cockrell, 2018-08-16 How to Weed Your Attic Getting Rid of Junk without Destroying History provides answers to the question when someone dies or it s time to move or just clean out the attic garage or basement what papers and other things should we save for the sake of history and what can we safely toss After reading this clearly written book by a retired archivist and a retired museum curator you can comfortably clean out your attic or office garage basement cupboards with confidence that you re not tossing out historically valuable or invaluable things and that you will not ask your local museum to take things that really belong in a thrift store junk yard or recycle center The book first describes how to identify historically important documents and artifacts The authors explain a few simple rules 1 a complete or long collection has more value than a partial one 2 emotive material provides a richer picture than factual material 3 unique usually has more value than mass produced 4 documents and objects carry more information than they intend to and 5 a 25 year rule exists without our consciously recognizing it They then apply the rules and assess the probable historical value of four different types of materials mass produced from books to vehicles individually created from art work to toys business materials from governance documents to uniforms and commemorative materials from awards to wedding dresses The book includes a brief description of the basics for preserving materials the reader wants to keep and references sources for more detail It also recognizes that the reader may not want to keep stuff that clearly has historical value For those readers the authors describe how to donate materials to a cultural repository In broad strokes they explain how repositories differ what the repository will want to know about the stuff you re offering where an appraiser and or tax advisor fits into the process and what the reader can expect the repository to do and not do Finally the book addresses unexpected issues that may arise around questions of legal ownership and privacy Throughout the book the authors illustrate their points using photographs and vignettes Conserving the Contents of an Historic House ,1989* Historic Homes and Places and Genealogical and Personal Memoirs Relating to the Families of Middlesex County, Massachusetts William Richard Cutter, 1908 The Old-house Journal ,2000 Preservation ,1999 Collections ,2005 Caring for Old Houses Pamela Cunningham, 2002 This book tells you how to tackle the problems of restoration who to turn to for advice materials and even money All parts of the house roof walls chimneys staircases are systematically discussed and explained

Ernst Guldbeck,1972 The Mountain Light ,1997 Restoring Your Historic House: The Comprehensive Guide for Homeowners Scott T. Hanson,2019-12-10 How to accommodate contemporary life in a historic house This book does not repeat basic information that is readily available in many standard DIY books about carpentry wiring and plumbing Rather it shows how to adapt those DIY skills to the specialized needs of a historic house Although there are other books about renovating old houses this is the first that prioritizes the identification and preservation of the historic character defining features of a house as a starting point in the process That is the purpose of this book to describe and illustrate a best practices approach for updating historic homes for modern life in ways that do not attempt to turn an old house into a new one The book also suggests many ways to save money in the process without settling for cheap or inappropriate solutions Scott Hanson is a historic building preservation professional and has 40 years experience rehabilitating historic houses He has illustrated this authoritative book with hundreds of step by step photos illustrations charts and decision making guides Interspersed throughout are photo essays of 13 restored historic houses representing a range of periods and architectural styles Italianate Victorian Queen Anne Federal Colonial Colonial Revival Greek Revival Ranch Adobe Craftsman Shingle and Rustic With interior and exterior photography by David Clough these multi page features show what can be achieved when a historic home is renovated with a desire to preserve or restore as much historic character as possible Country Home ,1999
