

Owner's Information Manual Central Air Conditioning Systems

A NOTE ABOUT SAFETY

Any time you use this manual (or its contents, instructions and so on) look for areas of the manual for personal safety. There are three levels of protection:

DANGER identifies the most serious hazards which will result in severe personal injury or death.

WARNING identifies hazards that could result in personal injury or death.

CAUTION is used to identify possible situations which could result in serious personal injury or property and property damage.

NOTE is used to highlight suggestions which will result in enhanced functionality, reliability, or operation.

WARNING

ELECTRIC SHOCK, DEATH, OR BURNING HAZARD : THE PROPERLY INSTALLED SYSTEM

Failure to follow this warning could result in personal injury, death or property damage.

Refrigerant installation, adjustment, alteration, removal, maintenance, or use that does not conform to the standard checks or other instructions which may cause personal injury or property damage. Consult a qualified technician service agency or your distributor or dealer for information or assistance. Use qualified installers or service agency staff and factory-authorized sets of documents when installing the product.

Read and follow all instructions and warnings, including labels shipped with or attached to all devices, operating your unit in conditions.

ABOUT YOUR AIR-CONDITIONING SYSTEM Identifying Your System

Your new Carrier air conditioning system is what you call a "split system." It has an outdoor unit and an indoor unit connected by ducts with refrigerant (called cooling) refrigerant lines. Each of these units has a rating plate with the model and serial numbers and will need to reference when calling for authorized Carrier dealer about your system.

Take a few minutes now to locate these numbers and record them in the space provided on the cover of this manual.

USING YOUR NEW CARRIER SYSTEM

Your Carrier air conditioning system is identified by a manufacturer's nameplate installed inside your home. Because there are so many differences available, please refer to the owner's manual supplied with your documents for complete details on system operation.

SYSTEM OPERATION

If you are installing this new air conditioning system, please read your manual from the longer periods of time. About 80% of the time it is running, it is operating in two stages and your indoor components will operate in two stages with lower loads, better humidity control, reduced comfort and reduced energy efficiency.

COOLING YOUR HOME

For cooling operation, make sure the thermostat is set to "Cooling." Then, adjust the Temperature control to your desired setting. Finally, set the Fan control to "Auto." Automatic control will turn off whenever it is convenient to the indoor environment.

OPERATION UNDER EXTREME CONDITIONS

Your air conditioner will run as long as necessary to maintain the indoor temperature indicated on your thermostat. The system has been tested and conditioned to run the longer periods of a year. Run the thermostat down. Your system will also run the longer periods of a year under the following conditions:

- Operating at outdoor temperatures
- Operating at indoor temperatures
- Taking heat recovery
- When the total number of people present in the house
- When the total number of objects (lighting, etc.)
- When the total number of objects (lighting, etc.)

ROUTINE MAINTENANCE

Simple routine maintenance as described below will allow your air conditioning system to operate successfully and dependably. Always remember the following safety precautions:

WARNING

ELECTRIC SHOCK, BURNING, OR DEATH

Failure to follow this warning could result in personal injury, death or death.

Disconnect all electrical power to the indoor air handler or outdoor unit before servicing. Always use proper safety procedures. Disconnect power to both the indoor and outdoor units.

NOTE: Please keep the door that was attached to the unit.

Dr Marty Becker has become known as America's Veterinarian because of his educational and entertaining shows and columns. For more than ten years Dr Becker has been the popular veterinary contributor to ABC TV's Good Morning America and is now a member of Core Team Oz on Dr Mehmet Oz's show. Dr Becker will help owners solve problems and enhance their bond with their cats through a tip-filled book on everything from finding the right cat to preventing health problems and bad behavior. He will start owners off on the right foot whether they buy a kitten or adopt an older cat, showing them how to solve the most annoying behavior and cat care problems from scratching furniture to not using the litter box. Surprising fact: did you know that black cats shed more than light-colored cats? And he advises owners how to make their own cat toys and how to save money on medication, both traditional and alternative.
