algorithmic recommendations prescribe our experiences. This network of mathematically determined choices the Filterworld has taken over almost unnoticed as we've grown accustomed to an insipid new normal. But to have our tastes, behaviours and emotions governed by computers calls the very notion of free will into question. Internationally recognized journalist and New Yorker staff writer Kyle Chayka journeys through this ever tightening web woven by algorithms. He explores how online and offline spaces alike have been engineered for seamless consumption. How the lowest common denominator is promoted at the expense of the complex, diverse or challenging. How users of technology contend with data driven equations that promise to anticipate their desires but often get them wrong. How the Filterworld is determining the very shape of culture itself. Chayka skilfully and compellingly traces this creeping machine guided curation that influences not just what culture we consume but what culture is produced. In doing so he attempts to answer to the most urgent question currently facing us is personal freedom ever again possible on the Internet. Filterworld is a fascinating history of the rise of the algorithm and an important investigation into where it could take us next if we let it.

Carbon Capture and Storage in the United Kingdom

Marc Hudson, 2024-03-27. This book is a concise but comprehensive guide to the history, present and possible futures of carbon capture and storage policy and action in the United Kingdom. UK. There have been multiple failed starts, promises and last chances for carbon capture and storage (CCS) in Europe, North America, China and Australia, but thus far it has repeatedly collided with the political and economic realities that the technology is too expensive and complicated to gain and keep policymakers' support. However, in the UK, that might be changing with explicit government support for CCS to help decarbonise industry. Set within the broader context of global interest in CCS, this book first outlines the technologies involved in the types of capture, transport options and storage options in the UK. It then briefly introduces an overarching policy analysis framework, John Kingdon's multiple streams approach, and uses it to give an account of the long history of CCS interest and efforts in three chapters covering the 1970s to 2002, 2003 to 2015 and 2016 to the present day. Marc Hudson focusses on the various arguments made for the introduction of CCS and the slowly shifting coalitions of actors who make those arguments while contrasting these with the perspectives of those opposed to CCS. This book will be of great interest to students, scholars and policymakers researching and working in the field as well as the related areas of energy, policy, energy transitions and climate change.

Witchcraft Jennie Woodard, 2025-08-28 From fairy tales and fiction to TikTok, the specter of the witch has cast a long shadow over women and popular culture. Witchcraft: Gendered Perspectives traces the history of and evolution of the term 'witch' across six centuries. Tracing the history of witchcraft from the publication of the Malleus Maleficarum to its contemporary representation and reclamation, this volume takes a gendered and intersectional approach to the cultural and historical shifts which have both demonized and democratized the 'witch' online and in public discourse. Amongst these are the witch trials in Scotland, England, and America. Literary and screen reimaginings of the 'witch' (The rise of Wicca as an alternative religion, Witchcraft: Gendered Perspectives) is an invaluable resource for graduate and undergraduate students across gender studies, queer history, religious studies, media studies, and European and North American history.

What a Way to Go Bella Mackie, 2025-10-07 Instant Sunday Times Bestseller. Wonderfully wicked Red Magazine A gleeful satire Sunday Times Ferociously entertaining Good Housekeeping UK. With the bite of The White Lotus and the family dynamics of Succession, What a Way to Go is an uproarious and satirical whodunnit about people behaving badly and perhaps finally getting their just deserts from the author of the mega bestseller How to Kill Your Family. When Anthony Wistern died, he expected his family to make a bit more of a fuss about it. Especially after he'd died in such dramatic fashion, skewered by an exorbitantly expensive party decoration in the private lake of his Cotswold s manor house at his sixtieth birthday party, surrounded by the people for whom he most loved flaunting his wealth. And now even death has disappointed him instead of Heaven or Hell or an empty void. Anthony s soul is stuck in a strange kind of purgatory while he tries to figure out who killed him before he is finally released from this interminably exasperating waiting room Olivia Wistern knows she should probably try to appear at least a little upset about her husband s death but she honestly can t be bothered As usual he s left behind an unbelievable mess financially socially personally that she s going to have to clean up Their four grown children will be of absolutely no help she shouldn t have let them become so hopelessly spoiled And is it just her or are the police and their murder investigation intentionally getting underfoot There s no shortage of people who hated Anthony so can t they look for a killer somewhere other than her house While the Wisterns are more concerned about the fate of their money than the fate of their patriarch one internet sleuth is highly interested in Anthony Wistern s death She isn t about to let the opportunity to create a sure to be smash true crime podcast pass by not when the murder was committed mere yards away and not when she has her own history with the victim She ll make her name and her own fortune off Anthony s death one way or another whatever it takes

author of The Life Changing Magic of Not Giving a F ck Excellent Rina really knows her shit I m so thankful for this book Jameela Jamil actress and host of I Weigh Journalist Rina Raphael looks at the explosion of the wellness industry how it stems from legitimate complaints how seductive marketing targets hopeful consumers and why women are opening up their wallets like never before Wellness promises women the one thing they desperately desire control Women are pursuing their health like never before Whether it s juicing biohacking clutching crystals or sipping collagen today there is something for everyone as the wellness industry has grown from modest roots into a 4 4 trillion entity and a full blown movement promising health and vitality in the most fashionable package But why suddenly are we all feeling so unwell The truth is that deep within the underbelly of self care hidden beneath layers of clever marketing wellness beckons with a far stronger more seductive message than health alone It promises women the one thing they desperately desire control Vividly told and deeply reported The Gospel of Wellness reveals how this obsession is a direct result of women feeling dismissed mistreated and overburdened Women are told they can manage the chaos ruling their life by following a laid out plan eat right exercise meditate then buy or do all this stuff And while wellness may have sprung from good intentions we are now relentlessly flooded with exploitative offerings questionable ideas and a mounting pressure to stay devoted to the divine doctrine of wellness What happens when the cure becomes as bad as the disease With a critical eye humor and empathy wellness industry journalist Rina Raphael examines how women have been led down a kale covered path promising nothing short of salvation She knows Raphael was once a disciple herself trying everything from clean eating to electric shock workouts until her own awakening to the troubling consequences Balancing the good with the bad The Gospel of Wellness is a clear eyed exploration of what wellness can actually offer us knocking down the false idols and commandments that have taken hold and ultimately showing how we might shape a better future for the movement and for our well being
