Captive Audience Stories:

Captive Audience Dov Haller,2017      Captive Audience Dave Reidy,2009 Find out what Bob Newhart REM and Abe Vigoda all have in common      Reading Faulkner's Best Short Stories Hans H. Skei,1999 Reading Faulkner's Best Short Stories provides readers with an introduction to Faulkner as a short story writer and offers close readings of twelve of his best short stories selected on the basis of literary quality as representatives of his most successful achievements within the genre      Whoever Tells the Best Story Wins Annette Simmons,2007 Most people have been conditioned to believe that business communication must be clear rational and objective with no place for emotion or subjective thinking Yet the most powerful persuasive communication has a human element often delivered simply and personally through the telling of stories This book shows readers how to use personal stories to get their ideas across and create meaningful connections between themselves and their audience Moving beyond the usual speech openers or ice breakers the book gives readers a process for finding developing and using their own stories including how to gain people's trust use six different kinds of stories shift from everyday thinking into story thinking help shape group decisions and actions Filled with enlightening anecdotes this practical guide gives readers the tools they need to persuade inspire and influence others through the power of story CEO Refresher The Best Books of 2007      Conceptualising Reflection In Teacher Development James Calderhead,Peter Gates,2003-09-02 Reflection has become widely recognised as a crucial element in the professional growth of teachers Terms such as reflective teaching enquiry orientated teacher education teachers as researchers and reflective practitioner have become quite prolific in discussions of classroom practice and professional development It is frequently presumed that reflection is an intrinsically good and desirable aspect of teaching and teacher education and that teachers in becoming more reflective will in some sense be better teachers though such claims have been rarely subject to detailed scrutiny Each of the chapters in this book is concerned with exploring the concept of reflection and considering its contributions to teacher education The papers range across different stages of professional development some focusing in particular on pre service education others on in service or professional development generally Some of the papers are concerned with particular strategies for promoting reflection and how they might operate in a teacher education context others dwell more upon a theoretical appreciation of how reflection facilitates in the processes of professional development and how it relates to issues of quality in teacher education

Discourse in Psychoanalysis and Literature (Routledge Revivals) Shlomith Rimmon-Kenan,2014-11-13 The essays in this collection first published in 1987 represent a collective attempt to listen with the third ear to the unheard ways the unspoken has of speaking and to speak of these ways By focusing on discourse the volume is distinguished from traditional literature by its emphasis on rhetorical structures and textual strategies and the investment of these structures with desire power and other aspects of subjectivity rather than the personality of the artist or the creative process However in this book the human dimension is not lost By claiming that the structures in question are not merely linguistic semiotic or narratological although they are all of these the human dimension is returned not in the raw as in traditional approaches but through the traces it leaves in the text as activated by its reading This book is ideal for students of literature and psychoanalytical theory

The Calling Card Script Paul Ashton,2014-03-10 The calling card script is the script that expresses your voice gets you noticed and helps you reach commission and production Written by Paul Ashton Development Manager of the BBC writersroom and born out of his wide experience of reading scripts working with writers and as an industry gatekeeper this is a guide to the key writing tools you need to know and understand to write a truly original script As many professionals need to switch mediums and genres in order to survive and thrive the book uniquely draws together the universal principles of dramatic storytelling for screen stage and radio With a focus on the script as a blue print for performance sections and chapters break down into bite sized practical insights and the book mirrors both the journey of the story and process of writing it The Calling Card Script shows how to tell a great story in script form and offers valuable professional development insight for all writers whether established or just starting out who wish to hone their craft and speak their voice
