Delegation: Steps and things to consider when delegating: Appropriate delegation for non-nursing tasks can provide the nurse with additional time to dedicate to patient care

Delegation includes more than just asking someone to do something

ANA and NCSBN (National Council of State Boards of Nursing) has defined delegation as the "transfer of responsibility for the performance of an activity from one individual to another but does not delegate the nursing process itself.... Nursing judgment can't be delegated

Delegation increases the responsibility and accountability of the RN

Nurses must know the delegation rules and regulations of your state's nursing practice act

Delegation is a learned skill- usually great difficulty sharing and delegating the responsibilities given to us

To increase delegation skills, necessary to overcome the myth of perfection

The person you delegate to must meet the standards required to complete the tasks

1. Determine which patients are the most stable and whose positive progress can be anticipated
2. Can delegate to UAP- feeding, dressing, bathing, picking up meal trays, getting supplies for nursing staff....

Patient teaching and D/C planning responsibility of nurse

Steps to consider: Decide who to delegate to, introduce the task, ensure understanding, agree on time frame, allocate responsibility, measure and track progress, get agreement and review/accept.

Roles of the nurse: Caregiver: comforter, healer, helper, nurturer Teacher: educate patients about choices, therapies and conditions so they can make informed decisions (discharge plans/home care) Advocate: involves taking personal and professional risks, one who pleads cause before another (questioning Dr. order, promoting patient comfort, supporting patient decisions) Manager: coordinates patient care and supervise nurses (charge nurse, supervisor, coordinator and manager) Colleague/collaborator: A person who works jointly on an activity or project, an associate ( nurses collaborate with doctors, pharmacists, therapists etc) Expert: moves the profession forward

Professional Identity: a sense of oneself that is influenced by characteristics, norms, and values of the nursing discipline, resulting in an individual thinking, acting, and feeling like a nurse.

- Attribute of professional nurse, acquired throughout their career, challenged, and matures through experiences, beginning to feel, think and act as a nurse, act ethically.
- Interventions to identify professional identity formation : hear expectations clearly, value debriefing and feedback from role models, engage in reflection, actively adopt a professional identity, understand own responsibilities for learning and be accountable, build relationship with those around you, develop personal self-care habits, embrace your opportunity for experiences with patients.
- Advocacy: the last defense on behalf of the patient, A major or signature image of professional identity among professionals such as nurses
- Examples: Sharing info with family, listening carefully to help family members carry out their wishes, working with the hospital to do what you can to help that happen,
