Carbon 2 Redemption Carbon Resurrection:

Religion, Materialism and Ecology Sigurd Bergmann, Kate Rigby, Peter Manley Scott, 2023-05-31 This timely collection of essays by leading international scholars across religious studies and the environmental humanities advances a lively discussion on materialism in its many forms. While there is little agreement on what materialism means, it is evident that there is a resurgence in thinking about matter in more animated and active ways. The volume explores how debates concerning the new materialisms impinge on religious traditions and the extent to which religions with their material culture and beliefs in the Divine within the material can make a creative contribution to debates about ecological materialisms. Spanning a broad range of themes including politics, architecture, hermeneutics, literature, and religion, the book brings together a series of discussions on materialism in the context of diverse methodologies and approaches. The volume investigates a range of issues including space and place, hierarchy and relationality, the relationship between nature and society, human and other agencies, and worldviews and cultural values. Drawing on literary and critical theory and queer philosophical, theological, and social theoretical approaches, this groundbreaking book will make an important contribution to the environmental humanities. It will be a key read for postgraduate students, researchers, and scholars in religious studies, cultural anthropology, literary studies, philosophy, and environmental studies.

Presence of God John Jefferson Davis, 2015-07-13 Practicing Ministry in the Presence of God presents a new paradigm for church ministry, one that is based on fundamental truths of the Christian faith such as the Trinity, union with Christ, and the already presence of the Holy Spirit in the church. This new paradigm can help busy pastors avoid burnout in the ministry and model Trinitarian New Testament patterns of ministry to their people. Practicing Ministry in the Presence of God reflects the best of recent New Testament scholarship, sensitivity to the contexts of globalized postmodern cultures dominated by digital media, and practical applications for Christian life, discipleship, worship, and mission. Minutes of the Annual Conferences

Sam Ashton,2023-09-21 In this incisive work Sam Ashton provides a compelling consistent and erudite argument for a foundational approach to the matter of sexual difference drawing on biblical and doctrinal material and using resources in their original languages He tracks and traces the sexed body as it moves from creation through the fall to redemption now and final consummation not yet In doing so Ashton presents what is perhaps the strongest case that can be made for male and female He created them Each chapter privileges biblical exegesis drawing upon figures in church history notably Augustine and Aquinas as and when they illumine Scripture By doing so the book considers the difficulty presented to sexual dimorphism by the phenomenon of intersex Ashton seeks to develop an understanding that is generous inclusive and affirming so he works carefully through the writings of Thatcher Song and Cornwall in a way that invites engagement and dialogue With the complete divine drama in view the book offers synthetic judgments about what remains essential for the structure of the sexed body as it travels through history and what may be accidental to the sexed body s direction within a particular theo dramatic act Ashton concludes by considering ways to transition from dogmatic judgments about intersexuality to the moral pastoral care of concrete intersex individuals briefly thinking about the complex matter of
