The Church and Modern Life (Classic Reprint) Washington Gladden, 2015-07-08 Excerpt from The Church and Modern Life The time is come said a New Testament prophet for judgment to begin at the house of God Perhaps that time ought never to pass but if in any measure the criticism of the church has of late been suspended it is certainly reopened now in good earnest Nor is this criticism confined to outsiders the church is forced to listen in these days to caustic censures from those who speak from within the fold That such self criticism is needed these chapters will not deny That the church is passing through a critical period must be conceded But the way of life is not obscure and it seems almost absurd to indulge the fear that the church which has been providentially guided through so many centuries will fail to find it About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
