Media Sensation Gothic Fantasy:

Picture World Rachel Teukolsky, 2020-08-16 The modern media world came into being in the nineteenth century when machines were harnessed to produce texts and images in unprecedented numbers In the visual realm new industrial techniques generated a deluge of affordable pictorial items mass printed photographs posters cartoons and illustrations These alluring objects of the Victorian parlor were miniaturized spectacles that served as portals onto phantasmagoric versions of the world Although new kinds of pictures transformed everyday life these ephemeral items have received remarkably little scholarly attention Picture World shines a welcome new light onto these critically neglected yet fascinating visual objects They serve as entryways into the nineteenth century's key aesthetic concepts Each chapter pairs a new type of picture with a foundational keyword in Victorian aesthetics a familiar term reconceived through the lens of new media Character appears differently when considered with caricature in the new comics and cartoons appearing in the mass press in the 1830s likewise the book approaches realism through pictorial journalism illustration via illustrated Bibles sensation through carte de visite portrait photographs the picturesque by way of stereoscopic views and decadence through advertising posters Picture World studies the aesthetic effects of the nineteenth century's media revolution it uses the relics of a previous era's cultural life to interrogate the Victorian world's most deeply held values arriving at insights still relevant in our own media age

The Supernatural Media Virus Rahel Sixta Schmitz, 2021-07-02 Since the 1990s the virus and the network metaphors have become increasingly popular finding application in a broad range of everyday discourses academic disciplines and fiction genres In this book Rahel Sixta Schmitz defines and discusses a trope recurring in Gothic fiction the supernatural media virus This trope comprises the confluence of the virus the network and a deep underlying media anxiety This study shows how Gothic narratives such as House of Leaves or The Ring feature the supernatural media virus to negotiate as well as actively shape imaginations of the network society and the dangers of a globalized technologized world

Supernatural in Short Fiction of the Americas Dana Del George, 2001-08-30 The continuing cultural encounters of the Americas between European and indigenous cultures and between scientific materialism and premodern supernaturalism have originated new narrative forms While supernatural short fiction of the Americas belongs to the broad category of the fantastic which is generally approached synchronically reading audiences of the past 200 years have shifted their beliefs about the supernatural several times While nineteenth century readers understood science as real and the supernatural as imaginary modern audiences recognize both as inaccurate a shift which allows authors of supernatural fiction to celebrate premodern indigenous beliefs which were once disdained by a materialist culture This book situates supernatural short fiction of the Americas within the changing cultural and epistemological contexts of the last 200 years and explores how authors have drawn upon a wealth of indigenous traditions The book begins with a discussion of theories of the supernatural and the fantastic It then looks at some of the first encounters of European and Native American supernatural beliefs and points to the common elements of these early traditions The volume next focuses on American literature of the nineteenth century which has a complex fusion of materialist biases and metaphysical fascinations The final portion of the book gives greater attention to Spanish American literature and the blending of the supernatural with attitudes of nostalgia and uncertainty Contemporary Authors CONTEMPORARY., 1981 Science Fiction & Fantasy Book Review Annual Robert A. Collins, Robert Latham, 1988
