B. Rubin, Alan M. Rubin, Elizabeth E. Graham, Elizabeth M. Perse, David Seibold, 2010-04-26 Expanding and building on the measures included in the original 1994 volume Communication Research Measures II A Sourcebook provides new measures in mass interpersonal instructional and group organizational communication areas and highlights work in newer subdisciplines in communication including intercultural family and health. It also includes measures from outside the communication discipline that have been employed in communication research. The measures profiled here are the best of the best from the early 1990s through today. They are models for future scale development as well as tools for the trade and they constitute the main tools that researchers can use for self administered measurement of people's attitudes, conceptions of themselves and perceptions of others. The focus is on up to date measures and the most recent scales and indexes used to assess communication variables. Providing suggestions for measurement of concepts of interest to researchers inspiring students to consider research directions not considered previously and supplying models for scale developers to follow in terms of the work necessary to produce a valid and reliable measurement instrument in the discipline the authors of this key resource have developed a significant contribution toward improving measurement and providing measures for better science.

Applied Communication Theory and Research H. Dan O'Hair, Gary L. Kreps, 2013-11-05 This volume provides a comprehensive examination of the applications of communication inquiry to the solution of relevant social issues. Nationally recognized experts from a wide range of subject areas discuss ways in which communication research has been used to address social problems and identify direction for future applied communication inquiry.

Investigating Communication Lawrence R. Frey, Carl H. Botan, Gary L. Kreps, 2000 This book provides a comprehensive balanced introduction to communication research methods. Designed for readers who have little or no familiarity with research methods this book helps one become a more knowledgeable and competent consumer and limited producer of scholarly research and of the everyday research to which they are exposed by the mass media. Praised for its accessible writing and extensive real life examples this book takes a step by step approach through the communication research process. Investigating Communication shows how communication research is conducted from start to finish with the book's organization modeled after a traditional research study. By making the material accessible rather than impossible to learn readers become excited about studying research methods. For anyone interested in the introductory methods of communication research.

Communication Research and Media Science in Europe Angela Schorr, William Campbell, Michael Schenk, 2013-02-06 Never before has the discipline of communication been more exciting, diverse and innovative than it is today. This volume reflects the current developments in communication research and media science with topics including audience research, internet communication, organizational communication studies on media use and effects and educational and intercultural media. It represents the voices of over 40 European and North American scholars. Reflecting similarities and differences in media culture in Europe and abroad the volume contains many important contributions from an insider point of view to European media research.

Thank you for picking up this book and reading the preface I am a communication researcher who conducts and publishes quantitative and qualitative research I am always learning something new about research methods and perhaps most central to this preface I really enjoy teaching research methods courses I designed this research methods book to help students overcome their fear of research methods and to provide instructors with foundational material for their classroom use Over the previous editions including this one I have received a substantial amount of feedback of how the book could be more effective for both instructors and students Most directly I receive feedback from my students when I teach undergraduate and graduate research methods courses More formal feedback has come from the publisher who seeks professional reviews of textbooks before an author begins work on a new edition Other times feedback has come informally from conversations at conferences or in e mails from instructors or students using the book I m grateful for everyone who has taken the time to comment to point out what s good or bad and to suggest what they would like to see in a new edition and what they hope I will remove So simply the goal of this book is to be helpful to instructors in teaching research methods and to be supportive to students who are learning research methods My other goal is to focus on communication research I emphasize communication as all of the examples used in book are drawn from the published research of communication scholars in communication or communication related journals I hope you will and you will encourage your students to go back to these cited sources Distinctive Qualities in Communication Research Donal Carbaugh,Patrice M. Buzzanell,2009-09-10 This timely volume provides an in depth look at why the field of communication is so central in initiatives for social impact around the world In Distinctive Qualities in Communication Research editors Donal Carbaugh and Patrice M Buzzanell bring together scholars with varied and productive approaches to communication to address the question of what distinguishes communication research from similar studies in other disciplines Each contributor responds to the question What makes your research communication research How does your program of inquiry treat communication not simply as data but as its primary theoretical concern Their responses are the heart of this book The questions addressed and answered herein define the qualities that set research in communication apart from work in related fields such as social psychology linguistics sociology anthropology and psychology The book begins and ends by looking across these studies generally bringing into view not only the specific possibilities in the study of communication today but also what such study contributes generally to understanding human problems social relations and communities This volume provides an invaluable resource for graduate students beginning their study in communication academics needing to define the distinctive contributions that communication research makes and administrators who want to understand the scope and breadth of work in communication It provides an invaluable resource for defining the role of communication research in the academic community and the contributions it makes to the study of human interaction Investigating Communication ,1991 This book provides a comprehensive balanced introduction to communication research methods Designed for readers who have little or no familiarity with research methods this book helps one become a more knowledgeable and competent consumer and limited producer of scholarly research and of the everyday research to which they are exposed by the mass media Praised for its accessible writing and extensive real life examples this book takes a step by step approach through the communication research process Investigating Communication shows how communication research is conducted from start to finish with the book's organization modeled after a traditional research study By making the material accessible rather than impossible to learn readers become excited about studying research methods

Communication Research Measures III Elizabeth E. Graham, Joseph P. Mazer, 2019-09-20 Building on the measures included in the original 1994 volume and subsequent 2009 volume Communication Research Measures III A Sourcebook extends its coverage of measurement issues and trends across the entire communication discipline Volume III features entirely new content and offers an assessment of new measures in mass interpersonal instructional group organizational family health and intercultural communication and highlights work in emergent subdisciplines in communication including social media and new communication technologies sports communication and public relations The best of the best from 2009 through today the profiled research measures in Volume III serve as models for future scale development and constitute the main tools that researchers can use for self administered measurement of people's attitudes conceptions of themselves and perceptions of others This book is ideal for undergraduate and graduate courses that emphasize quantitative research methods measurement and or survey design across communication studies disciplines
