Community Journalism A Way Of Life:

Community Journalism Bruce M. Kennedy, 1973-01 Community Newspapers and the Japanese-American Incarceration Camps Ronald Bishop, 2015-06-03 Though much has been said about Japanese American incarceration camps little attention is paid to the community newspapers closest to the camps and how they constructed the identities and lives of the occupants inside Dependent on government and military officials for information these journalists rarely wrote about the violation of the evacuees civil rights Instead they concentrated on the economic impact the camps and the evacuees who would replace workers off to enlist in the military and work for defense contractors would have on the areas they covered Newspapers like the Cody Enterprise and Powell Tribune in Wyoming the Lamar Daily News and the Casa Grande Dispatch regularly published overly optimistic updates on the progress of construction the size of the contractor payrolls and the amount of materials used to build the camps Ronald Bishop and his coauthors reveal how journalists positioned the incarceration camps as a potential economic boon and how evacuees were framed as another community group there to contribute to the region s economic well being Community Newspapers and the Japanese American Incarceration Camps examines the rhetoric and journalistic approach of the local papers and how they informed the communities just outside their walls This book will appeal to scholars of history and journalism Communication and Community Gregory J. Bratich, 2008-02-07 While most other works focus on conspiracy theories this book examines conspiracy panics or the anxiety over the phenomenon of conspiracy theories Jack Z Bratich argues that conspiracy theories are portals into the major social issues defining U S and global political culture These issues include the rise of new technologies the social function of journalism U S race relations citizenship and dissent globalization biowarfare and biomedicine and the shifting positions within the Left Using a Foucauldian governmentality analysis Bratich maintains that conspiracy panics contribute to a broader political rationality a neo liberal strategy of governing at a distance through the use of reason He also explores the growing popularity of 9 11 conspiracy research in terms of what he calls the sphere of legitimate dissensus Conspiracy Panics concludes that we are witnessing a new fusion of culture and rationality one that is increasingly shared across the political spectrum School and Home Education ,1914 Reappraising Local and Community News in the UK David Harte,Rachel Matthews,2021-09-12 Drawing on expert contributions from around the UK this collection brings together a series of insights into the contemporary local and community news media landscape in the UK Offering an analysis of the ongoing crisis in the provision of local news exacerbated by the COVID 19 pandemic the book provides a critical space for practitioners and scholars to reflect on emerging models for economically sustainable participatory local news services It showcases new scholarly analyses of local news provision and community news practices giving voice to the experiences of practitioners from across the local news ecology In a set of diverse contributing chapters campaigners and practitioners map out the period of recent rapid change for local news questioning contemporary government initiatives and highlighting the advent of diverse entrepreneurial reactions to the spaces created by a decline in local mainstream news services This book is a timely examination of what we can learn from the variety of approaches being taken across the local media landscape in the commercial subsidised and non profit sector shining new light on how practices that place the engagement of citizens at their centre might be propagated within this policy and funding landscape Reappraising Local and Community News in the UK is a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in local news and journalism as well as for anyone interested in the evolving local media landscape in the UK Science ,1928 Editor & Publisher ,1925 The fourth estate Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1976 Minnesota's Black Community ,1976 This reference books focuses on understanding the role of the African American worker in Minnesota with historical information crucial to an understanding of the state and its growth Its goal is to help white Minnesotans learn about the contributions of their fellow Black citizens which the editor believes is a major cause in racial problems and misunderstandings
