Chernobyl Confessions Of A Reporter:

Chernobyl Ihor F. Kostin, 2006 Named the man of legend by the Washington Post Igor Kostin is the main witness of the Chernobyl catastrophe On April 26 1986 several hours after the explosion he flew over the plant the radioactivity was so high that all his films turned black Only one single picture survived it was shown around the world Surprised by the enormity of the disaster and the silence of the authorities Kostin decided to stay and live in the midst of the 800 000 liquidators who followed each other on the site of the accident Himself affected by radiation he did not stop but for twenty years continued to photograph the plant and the forbidden zone surrounding it His story became the story of Chernobyl He witnessed the evacuation of villages the desperation and the courage of the people the construction of the sarcophagus the men transporting radioactive blocks with naked hands the machine cemetery where man no longer belongs For the first time he tells the story in words and in pictures BOOK JACKET Tickle Your Catastrophe! Frederik Le Roy, 2011 A collection of essays that takes stock of the current impact of the image and imagination of the catastrophe in art science and philosophy

Dispatches from Dystopia Kate Brown, 2015-05-01 Why are Kazakhstan and Montana the same place asks one chapter of Kate Brown's surprising and unusual journey into the histories of places on the margins overlooked or erased It turns out that a ruined mining town in Kazakhstan and Butte Montana America's largest environmental Superfund site have much more in common than one would think thanks to similarities in climate hucksterism and the perseverance of their few hardy inhabitants Taking readers to these and other unlikely locales Dispatches from Dystopia delves into the very human and sometimes very fraught ways we come to understand a particular place its people and its history In Dispatches from Dystopia Brown wanders the Chernobyl Zone of Alienation first on the Internet and then in person to figure out which version the real or the virtual is the actual forgery She also takes us to the basement of a hotel in Seattle to examine the personal possessions left in storage by Japanese Americans on their way to internment camps in 1942 In Uman Ukraine we hide with Brown in a tree in order to witness the annual male only Rosh Hashanah celebration of Hasidic Jews In the Russian southern Urals she speaks with the citizens of the small city of Kyshtym where invisible radioactive pollutants have mysteriously blighted lives Finally Brown returns home to Elgin Illinois in the midwestern industrial rust belt to investigate the rise of rustalgia and the ways her formative experiences have inspired her obsession with modernist wastelands Dispatches from Dystopia powerfully and movingly narrates the histories of locales that have been silenced broken or contaminated In telling these previously unknown stories Brown examines the making and unmaking of place and the lives of the people who remain in the fragile landscapes that are left behind What's Cooking in the Kremlin Witold Szablowski, 2023-11-07 A New York Times Editors Choice Entertaining A heady mix of propaganda and paranoia Szablowski writes sensitively not just about food but also its terrible absence The New York Times Book Review Riveting a delicious odyssey full of history humor and jaw dropping stories If you want to understand the making of modern Russia read this book Daniel Stone bestselling author of The Food

Explorer A high spirited eye opening appetite whetting culinary travel adventure that tells the story of the last hundred years of Russian power through food by an award winning Polish journalist who s been praised by both Timothy Snyder and Bill Buford In the gonzo spirit of Anthony Bourdain and Hunter S Thompson Witold Szab owska has tracked down and broken bread with people whose stories of working in Kremlin kitchens impart a surprising flavor to our understanding of one of the world s superpowers In revealing what Tsar Nicholas II s and Lenin s favorite meals were why Stalin s cook taught Gorbachev s cook to sing to his dough how Stalin had a food tester while he was starving the Ukrainians during the Great Famine what the recipe was for the first soup flown into outer space why Brezhnev hated caviar what was served to the Soviet Union s leaders at the very moment they decided the USSR should cease to exist and whether Putin s grandfather really did cook for Lenin and Stalin Szab owska has written a fascinating oral history complete with recipes and photos of Russia s evolution from culinary indifference to decadence famine to feasts and of the Kremlin s Olympics style preoccupation with food as an expression of the country s global standing Traveling across Stalin s Georgia the war fronts of Afghanistan the nuclear wastelands of Chornobyl and even to a besieged steelworks plant in Mariupol often with one of a kind access to locales forbidden to foreign eyes and with a rousing sense of adventure and an inimitable ability to get people to spill the tea he shows that a century after the revolution Russia still uses food as an instrument of war and feeds its people on propaganda Education of Cancer Healing Vol. I - Wake Up Call Peter Havasi, Living Journalism: Principles & Practices for an Essential Profession Rich Martin,2017-05-12 For journalism to survive and flourish it needs journalists who understand its importance to society believe in and are committed to its core values and can put those values into action This goal is at the heart of Living Journalism a highly readable practical book where readers will learn the core values and principles needed to produce work that informs and enlightens an increasingly mobile and participatory audience The advice and stories of professionals throughout the book allow veteran reporters to serve as mentors to today s journalists
