Be(com)ing a Conference Interpreter Veerle Duflou,2016-09-07 This study offers a novel view of Conference Interpreting by looking at EU interpreters as a professional community of practice In particular Duflou s work focuses on the nature of the competence conference interpreters working for the European Parliament and the European Commission need to acquire in order to cope with their professional tasks Making use of observation as a member of the community in depth interviews and institutional documents she explores the link between the specificity of the EU setting and the knowledge and skills required Her analysis of the learning experiences of newcomers in the professional community shows that EU interpreters competence is to a large extent context dependent and acquired through situated learning In addition it highlights the various factors which have an impact on this learning process Using the way Dutch booth EU interpreters share the workload in the booth as a case Duflou demonstrates the importance of mastering collaborative and embodied skills for EU interpreters She thereby challenges the idea of interpreting competence from an individual cognitive accomplishment and redefines it as the ability to apply the practical and setting determined know how required to function as a full member of the professional community Situated Learning in Interpreter Education Annette Miner,Brenda

Nicodemus,2021-07-16 This book provides a theoretical and pragmatic guide to the use of situated learning within structured interpreting programs Proponents of situated learning theory believe that meaningful learning occurs when students interact with others in the social contexts in which they will be working With such interactions students have the opportunity to apply their theoretical knowledge to authentic contexts that they will encounter throughout their professional lives While a limited number of research articles exist about the use of situated learning in interpreter education this is the first full book to provide the foundations for situated learning theory show how to implement situated learning in interpreter education and offer practical applications for maximizing authenticity in interpreting classrooms Conference Interpreting Explained Roderick Jones, 2014-04-08 Roderick Jones adopts a very practical approach to both consecutive and simultaneous interpreting providing detailed illustrations of note taking reformulation the salami technique simplification generalization anticipation and so on including numerous tricks of the trade such as how to handle difficult speakers and how to interpret untranslatable jokes Numerous examples are offered at every stage all in English or foreignized English Although primarily written as a practitioner's explanation rather than a theorist's speculation the book includes notes on concepts such as units of meaning translation units and discourse structure as well as stances on more polemical issues such as the use of omission and the ethics of interpreting mistakes The book concludes with a comment on the pleasure of conference interpreting as well as a glossary and suggested further readings In all it fills a major gap in English language publications on interpreting providing an introduction for beginners a down to earth guide for students and a handy compendium for teachers

The Evolving Curriculum in Interpreter and Translator Education David B. Sawyer, Frank Austermühl, Vanessa Enríquez Raído, 2019-06-15 The Evolving Curriculum in Interpreter and Translator Education Stakeholder perspectives and voices examines forces driving curriculum design implementation and reform in academic programs that prepare interpreters and translators for employment in the public and private sectors The evolution of the translating and interpreting professions and changes in teaching practices in higher education have led to fundamental shifts in how translating and interpreting knowledge skills and abilities are acquired in academic settings Changing conceptualizations of curricula processes of innovation and reform technology refinement of teaching methodologies specific to translating and interpreting and the emergence of collaborative institutional networks are examples of developments shaping curricula Written by noted stakeholders from both employer organizations and academic programs in many regions of the world the timely and useful contributions in this comprehensive international volume describe the impact of such forces on the conceptual foundations and frameworks of interpreter and translator education

Conference Interpreting in China Irene A. Zhang, 2023 In this landmark project Moratto and Zhang evaluate how conference interpreting developed as a profession in China and the directions in which it is heading Bringing together perspectives from leading researchers in the field Moratto and Zhang present a thematically organised analysis of the trajectory of professional conference interpreting in China This includes discussion of the pedagogies used both currently and historically the professionalisation of interpreter education and future prospects for virtual reality multi modal conferences and artificial intelligence Taken as a whole the contributors present a rich and detailed picture of the development of conference interpreting in China since 1979 its status today and how it is likely to develop in the coming decades An essential resource for scholars and students of conference interpreting in China alongside its sister volume The Pioneers of Chinese Interpreting

Insiders Accounts on the Rise of a Profession Jie Liu, 2020-10-07 This book addresses an important yet under researched domain in interpreting education how theoretical training models should be responsive to context To do so it applies the linguistic concept of context to interpreting studies by investigating practices in representative conference interpreting training programmes in Europe and China After presenting an overview of interpreter training programmes the author describes the need to reassess the applicability of the well established and widely accepted model of interpreting from the Paris School ESIT AIIC model to the Chinese interpreting training scene Building on the theoretical study of context in foreign language classrooms suggested by linguists like Halliday and Hasan 1993 Kramsch 1993 and others the author subsequently constructs a new curriculum comprising a four step approach to consecutive interpreting courses in the Chinese context The rationale for such an approach is justified in accordance with the overall design of context taking into account the four dimensions in a teaching learning environment This book is intended for scholars and graduate students who are interested in translation and interpreting applied linguistics as well as foreign language education It also serves as a practical guide for developing university level translation and interpreting programmes
