capolavoro d arte suntuaria Francesco Pertegato Building the Body of Christ Daniel C. Cochran, 2020-11-17 In Building the Body of Christ Daniel C Cochran argues that monumental Christian art and architecture played a crucial role in the formation of individual and communal identities in late antique Italy The ecclesiastical buildings and artistic programs that emerged during the fourth and fifth centuries not only reflected Christianity s changing status within the Roman Empire but also actively shaped those who used them Emphasizing the importance of materiality and the body in early Christian thought and practice Cochran shows how bishops and their supporters employed the visual arts to present a Christian identity rooted in the sacred past but expressed in the present through church unity and episcopal authority He weaves together archaeological and textual evidence to contextualize case studies from Rome Aquileia and Ravenna showing how these sites responded to the diversity of early Christianity as expressed through private rituals and the imperial appropriation of the saints Cochran shows how these early ecclesiastical buildings and artistic programs worked in conjunction with the liturgy to persuade individuals to adopt alternative beliefs practices and values that contributed to the formation of institutional Christianity and the Christianization of late antique Italy Michelangelo, Drawing, and the Invention of Architecture Cammy Brothers,2008 Michelangelo s fame as a painter and sculptor tends to eclipse his reputation as an architect but his impact here was just as profound In this book Cammy Brothers takes an unusual approach to Michelangelo s architectural designs arguing that they are best understood in terms of his experience as a painter and sculptor By following the steps by which Michelangelo arrived at his extraordinary inventions the author questions conventional notions of spontaneity as a function of genius Rather she explores the idea of drawing as a mode of thinking using its evidence to reconstruct the process by which Michelangelo arrived at new ideas By turning the flexibility and fluidity of his figurative drawing methods to the subject of architecture Michelangelo demonstrated how it could match the expressive possibilities of painting and sculpture Again to the Life of Eternity Frank A. Vaughan,1996 This work postulates that the set of 116 designs by William Blake illustrated herein is not a series of individual responses to the pieces of text they accompany nor is it a series of responses to the individual poems of Thomas Gray The designs are also more than illustrations or corrections of Gray s speakers or of Gray himself In the Gray designs Blake was using the opportunity given him by John and Ann Flaxman in 1797 to explore and explain visually the reformist malaise in the reactionary nineties when the general economic well being and optimism had been replaced by the effects of war and fear For Blake the collapse into the later 1790s is the failure of the imaginative will to sustain the impetus that the American and French Revolutions had begun Blake saw several causes for this failure of will and created a set of designs rich in allusions and dense with visual conventions These visual topoi are personal topical classical biblical and literary Thus there is a need for a study of the Gray designs that sees them as they are a unity rich with visual conventions partaking of Blake s revolutionary pattern of development and desire to reshape in specific ways the mind of his audience BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Breaking Ground Robert J. Cornell,2011-02 The paradigm must be preserved There are questions about human history that have never been answered There are episodes of our past that have never been revealed And there are people who will fight and die to keep it that way In Breaking Ground The Horeb Anomaly a wealthy businessman Victor Finn discovers a scroll written in an unknown language Finn recruits the help of Holly Webster an expert in ancient languages and Jack Butler a former special ops officer to investigate the meaning of the scroll The scroll offers clues to the location of an artifact of immense power the Perfection of Paradise Jack Holly and a crack team of scientists and former military personnel travel to the lands of Exodus in search of artifacts and knowledge that will change humankind's view of its history forever. But there is a group of people who will do anything to make sure the Perfection of Paradise never sees the light of day. A mysterious faction called the Brotherhood sends operatives to follow Jack and Holly's team. The Brotherhood will stop at nothing to make sure that the current historical paradigm is preserved. Will Jack and Holly find and save the Perfection of Paradise and reveal long kept secrets about humanity's history? Or will the Brotherhood continue to suppress historical knowledge and preserve the paradigm?

King Seneb-Kay's Tomb and the Necropolis of a Lost Dynasty at Abydos Josef Wegner, Kevin Cahail, 2021-08-20 This volume is the publication and analysis of the tomb of pharaoh Seneb Kay ca 1650-1600 BCE and a cemetery of associated tombs at Abydos all attributable to a group of kings of Egypt's Second Intermediate Period. The tomb of Seneb Kay has provided the first known king's tomb of pharaonic Egypt that included decorated imagery in the burial chamber. That evidence presented in full color and discussed in detail in the volume allows us to identify this previously unknown ruler along with a group of seven similar tombs that can be attributed to an Upper Egyptian Dynasty that survived for approximately half a century during a period of pronounced territorial fragmentation in the Nile Valley. The book examines the architecture and artifacts associated with these tombs as well as presents an osteological analysis of the bodies of Seneb Kay and the other anonymous individuals buried at South Abydos. Seneb Kay's skeletonized mummy was recovered inside his tomb and provides a rare opportunity to examine the body of a king of this era. He is the earliest substantially preserved body of an Egyptian king to survive in the archaeological record and the first known Egyptian pharaoh whose skeletal remains show that he died in battle. The analysis of his death in a military encounter along with insights from the other skeletal remains indicates a line of kings whose rise to power was associated with their social background as members of the military elite. The book examines the wider implications of these bodies in terms of the pronounced militarization of society in the Second Intermediate Period. Seneb Kay's tomb has also provided extensive evidence through its use of reused blocks bearing decoration of earlier elite and royal monuments at Abydos. The combination of evidence provides a new archaeological and historical window into the political situation that defined Egypt's Second Intermediate Period.
