DOMAIN 1: PROJECT MANAGEMENT FUNDAMENTALS & CORE CONCEPTS

Demonstrate an understanding of project life cycles & processes

- Identify the characteristics that define a:
 - Project as a temporary endeavor with specific goals
 - Program as a group of related projects and programs, managed in a coordinated manner to achieve benefits
 - Portfolio as a collection of projects, programs, portfolios, and operations managed as a group to achieve strategic objectives
 - Portfolio focus on moving the organization forward through sharing resources, managing risks, and changing priorities
- Clarify that projects are temporary efforts aimed at creating unique products, services, or results
 - Projects:
 - Have a beginning and an end
 - Are governed by a project life cycle and run by a project manager
 - Operations are:
 - Ongoing activities that maintain the business's normal functioning
 - Permanent and repetitive
 - Governed by a product life cycle and run by a functional manager
- Differentiate predictive approaches, which plan the project in detail from the start, from adaptive (or agile) approaches, which adapt to changes and evolve with stakeholder input throughout the project
 - There is often more measurement and control with predictive approaches, whereas we see more servant leadership and self-managed teams with adaptive approaches
- Define issues as current problems that have occurred and need to be addressed and risks as potential future events that could impact the project
 - Risks that may have a negative impact are called threats
 - Risks that may have a positive impact are called opportunities
- Define assumptions as things believed to be true for the planning process and constraints as limitations that affect project execution
- Evaluate project scope, including boundaries, deliverables, and requirements, to ensure it aligns with project objectives and stakeholder expectations
- Utilize values outlined in the PMI Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct, such as responsibility, respect, fairness, and honesty, in hypothetical project management situations to demonstrate ethical decision-making
- Illustrate how projects can drive organizational change, improve processes, or introduce new products or services, thereby contributing to the organization's growth and adaptation to market or environmental changes

Demonstrate an understanding of project management planning

Project management plan vs. product management plan
Project management plan

- Focuses on execution, monitoring, and closure of a specific project
- Outlines approach to managing project's scope, schedule, costs, quality, resources, communication, risks, procurement, and stakeholder engagement
- Aims to ensure project meets its objectives within defined constraints of time, budget, and quality
- Temporary and specific to project at hand, detailing how project objectives will be achieved
 - Product management plan
 - Focuses on the life cycle of a product from conception through development, launch, growth, maturity, and retirement
- Addresses market analysis, product strategy, positioning, customer persona, competitive analysis, pricing strategy, go-to-market strategy, performance metrics, feedback and iteration plan, and road map for product evolution
- Aims to satisfy customer needs and achieve product-related business goals, such as market share, revenue, or profitability
- Ongoing and evolving as product and market conditions change, guiding product development and positioning over time

Milestones vs. task durations

Milestones

- Define represent significant events or achievements within a project that mark completion of major phases or objectives, without consuming time themselves
 - Have zero duration and zero resources
- Indicate progress serve as checkpoints to evaluate project advancement and facilitate stakeholder communication

Task durations

- Characterize measure amount of working time required to complete a specific task or activity, directly influencing project timeline
- Calculate project timeline: essential for scheduling and resource planning, as they determine how long each activity will take to complete within the overall project timeline

Types of project resources

- Human resources: personnel involved in the project, including project managers, team members, contractors, consultants, and any other stakeholders who contribute directly or indirectly to project outcomes
- Physical resources: tangible assets, such as equipment, materials, supplies, and facilities, needed to perform project activities

Risk register

- Project document used to identify, assess, and manage risks throughout the life of a project
- Serves as a central repository where all identified risks are documented and tracked
- Key components:
 - Risk description: detailed description of each identified risk
 - Risk category: classification of the risk, such as technical, legal, financial, operational, or environmental
 - Probability: assessment of how likely it is that the risk will occur
 - Impact: potential effect on project if risk materializes
 - Can refer to impacts on project's scope, schedule, costs, or quality
 - Priority: ranking of risk on the basis of its probability and impact, helping to identify which risks require immediate attention or resources
 - Response strategies: actions planned or taken to decrease probability and impact of threats or increase probability or impact of opportunities
 - Owner: person or team responsible for monitoring the risk and implementing mitigation or response strategies
 - Status: status of the risk (e.g., active, monitoring, closed) and updates on the implementation of response strategies

Stakeholder register

- Project document that records detailed information about all stakeholders
- Ensures the needs and expectations of all stakeholders are understood and addressed throughout the project life cycle
- Key components:
 - Stakeholder identification: lists all individuals, groups, or organizations that may impact or be impacted by the project
 - Assessment information: includes details about each stakeholder's interest, influence, power, and potential impact on the project
 - Stakeholder classification: stakeholders may be categorized on the basis of several factors, including their level of interest and influence on the project, to prioritize engagement efforts
 - Contact information: provides necessary contact details for each stakeholder
 - Requirements or expectations: documents specific needs, expectations, or concerns of each stakeholder regarding the project
 - Assigned roles: if applicable, specifies roles or responsibilities assigned to stakeholders within the project, such as project sponsor, steering committee member, or subject matter expert
