Capitalism in Octavia Butler's "Parable of the Sower". Utopia through Immanent Critique Lena Danielmeyer, 2020-10-06 Seminar paper from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1.0 University of Osnabrück language English abstract This paper will argue that in Parable of the Sower by Octavia Butler creates utopian hope by realistically building a dystopian vision which immanently criticises the present For reasons of brevity this will be elucidated mainly using the example of capitalism While an abundance of other issues taken up by the novel like climate change democracy racism or violence would certainly serve as productive foci of analysis as well capitalism will be the centre of attention because it is at the core of the apocalyptic circumstances portrayed in the novel. It also constitutes an intersection with most of the other issues named above, making capitalism a suitable starting point. Firstly, a short overview will be given on contemporary interpretations of the state of utopia, pointing out capitalism as a main factor in the changing of utopianism. Among others, Krishan Kumar's The Ends of Utopia, Jerry Phillips's Utopia and Catastrophe in Octavia Butler's Parable of the Sower, and Darko Suvin's Metamorphoses of Science Fiction will be consulted. Realism, cognition, and estrangement will be pointed out as main tools of offering immanent critique and, in extension, utopian hope. Secondly, the production of immanent critique in Parable of the Sower will be analysed with the help of Mathias Nilges's paper on The Realism of Speculation. Mike Davis's City of Quartz will serve to illustrate the realism in Butler's vision of future Los Angeles. The second example will examine the company town Olivar. Briefly consulting Rottinghaus Pluretti's and Sutko's discursive paper The End of Material Scarcity, the effectiveness of this immanent critique will be discussed. Lastly, this paper will seek to show how immanent critique allows for the creation of utopian hope, pointing towards the transformative value of utopian literature presented in Carl Freedman's Critical Theory and Science Fiction. This paper will, because of its limited length, not be able to further investigate critiques of capitalism in any other context than that of Butler's novel. Also, it will not be analysing the portrayal of capitalism as essentially nostalgic and conservative, making it the opposite of the utopian vision of adaptation and progress that it is contrasted with. This paper will not delve deeper into other interesting aspects of the generation of utopian hope like narration.

Blueprints of the Afterlife Ryan Boudinot, 2012-01-03. A tour de force novel from the wickedly talented The Boston Globe and darkly funny author of Misconception. The New York Times Book Review Finalist for the Philip K. Dick Award. It is the afterlife. The end of the world is a distant, distorted memory called the Age of Fucked Up Shit. A sentient glacier has wiped out most of North America. Medical care is supplied by open source nanotechnology and human nervous systems can be hacked. Abby Fogg is a film archivist with a niggling feeling that her life is not really her own. She may be right. Al Skinner is a former mercenary for the Boeing Army who's been dragging his war baggage behind him for nearly a century. Woo jin Kan is a virtuoso dishwasher with the Restaurant and Hotel Management Olympic medals to prove it. Over them all hovers a mysterious man named Dirk Bickle who sends all these characters to a full scale replica of Manhattan under construction in Puget Sound. An ambitious novel that writes large the hopes and anxieties of our time: climate change, social strife, the depersonalization of the digital age. Blueprints of the Afterlife will establish Ryan Boudinot as an exceptional novelist of great daring. Duct tape yourself to the front of this roller coaster and enjoy the ride. The New York Times. Challenging, messy, and funny fiction for readers looking for something way beyond space operas and swordplay. Kirkus Reviews. The absurdities are cleverly crafted and highly entertaining. Imaginative and heartfelt. Hannah Calkins Shelf Awareness. Ingenious, frenzied, hilarious, and paranoid. A bracing dystopian romp through contemporary dread. Publishers Weekly. Probably the strangest post-apocalyptic novel in ages. io9. What an inspired mindfuck of a book. City Paper. Baltimore

Z. Angl. Am, 2007 An Ambiguous Utopia. The Concept of Utopia in Ursula K. Le Guin's "The Dispossessed" Wiebke Saathoff, 2017-10-10. Bachelor Thesis from the year 2015 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies, Literature grade 1.3, University of Hannover, language English, abstract.

Ursula K. Le Guin's The Dispossessed is a science fiction novel from 1974, often conceived as a blueprint for an anarchist society. The Dispossessed presents the reader a juxtaposition of Anarres and its sister planet Urras, which houses a society based on capitalism. The aim of the present paper is to explore the location of utopia in The Dispossessed. Is it a utopia as ambiguous as its subtitle declares? The paper argues that Le Guin's novel in many respects coincides with the concept of a critical utopia. Whereas it is true that both Urras and Anarres display many features that could be considered utopian, The Dispossessed equally presents the flaws of its society, which, as this paper suggests, relativises their status as the ideal place. The second part of the paper reflects upon the circumstance that both planets are introduced to the reader in the course of a dual narrative, which presents the plotline in alternating chapters on Urras and Anarres. It examines the narrative focus on the protagonist Shevek and his experience of the societies in the light of Tom Moylan's and Ernst Bloch's concepts of utopia. The paper concludes that this ambiguous mode of narration, switching in time and place, firstly portrays a concept of utopia which is dynamic and embedded in historicity and secondly expresses the importance of individual action and initiative for the realisation of utopia.
