Chinese Propaganda Posters From Revolution To Modernization:

Chinese Propaganda Posters: From Revolution to Modernization Stefan Landsberger, 2020-11-25 Brightly coloured prints portraying model behaviour or a better future have been a ubiquitous element of Chinese political culture from Imperial times until present. As economic reform swept the People's Republic in the 1980s, visual propaganda ceased to depict the tanned and muscular labourers in a proletarian utopia so typical of preceding decades. Instead, Western icons of progress and development were employed: high speed bullet trains, spacecraft, high rise buildings, gridlocked free ways and projections of general affluence. Socialist Realism was phased out by design and mixed media techniques that were influenced by Western advertising. This lavishly illustrated study traces the development of the style and content of the Chinese propaganda poster in the decade of reform from its traditional origins to its use as a tool for political and economic purposes. Chinese Propaganda Posters: From Revolution to Modernization Stefan Landsberger, 2020-11-25 Brightly coloured prints portraying model behaviour or a better future have been a ubiquitous element of Chinese political culture from Imperial times until present. Collecting Prints, Posters, and Ephemera Ruth E. Iskin, Britany Salsbury, 2019-12-12 Why did collectors seek out posters and collect ephemera during the late nineteenth and the twentieth centuries? How have such materials been integrated into institutional collections today? What inspired collectors to build significant holdings of works from cultures other than their own? And what are the issues facing curators and collectors of digital ephemera today? These are among the questions tackled in this volume, the first to examine the practices of collecting prints, posters and ephemera during the modern and contemporary periods. A wide range of case studies feature collections of printed materials from the United States, Latin America, France, Germany, Great Britain, China, Japan, Russia, Iran and Cuba. Fourteen essays and one roundtable discussion, all specially commissioned from art historians, curators and collectors for this volume, explore key issues such as the roles of class, politics and gender and address historical contexts, social roles, value and national and transnational aspects of collecting practices. The global scope highlights cross cultural connections and contributes to a new understanding of the place of prints, posters and ephemera within an increasingly international art world. Encyclopedia of Contemporary Chinese Culture Edward L. Davis, 2004-08-02 This is the first reference book to digest this vast cultural output and make it accessible to the English speaking world. It contains nearly 1,200 entries written by an international team of specialists to enable readers to explore a range of diverse and fascinating cultural subjects from prisons to rock groups underground Christian churches to TV talk shows and radio hotlines Experimental artists with names such as Big Tailed Elephants and The North Pole Group nestle between the covers alongside entries on lotteries gay cinema political jokes sex shops theme parks New Authoritarians and Little Emperors While the focus of the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Chinese Culture is on mainland China since 1980 it also includes longer specially commissioned entries on various aspects of contemporary culture in Hong Kong and Taiwan Including full and up to date references for further reading this is an indispensable reference tool for all teachers and students of contemporary Chinese culture It will also be warmly embraced as an invaluable source of cultural context by tourists journalists business people and others who visit China

Chinese Studies in the Netherlands, 2013-12-09 The Netherlands have a long and proud history in Chinese studies This volume collects not only articles that trace the historical development of Chinese studies in the Netherlands from the middle of the nineteenth century to the present and beyond but also studies that deal with Dutch research in specific disciplines within Chinese studies Chinese studies in the Netherlands originated from the needs of the Dutch colonial administration in the Dutch East Indies but developed a strong philological emphasis in the first part of the twentieth century to turn increasingly towards disciplinary research on modern and contemporary China in the last few decades Contributors include Leonard Bluss Maghiel van Crevel Barend ter Haar Albert Hoffst dt Wilt Idema Mark Leenhouts Oliver Moore Frank Pieke and Rint Sybesma

Exhibiting the Past Kirk A. Denton, 2013-12-31 During the Mao era China s museums served an explicit and uniform propaganda function underlining official Party history eulogizing revolutionary heroes and contributing to nation building and socialist construction With the implementation of the post Mao modernization program in the late 1970s and 1980s and the advent of globalization and market reforms in the 1990s China underwent a radical social and economic transformation that has led to a vastly more heterogeneous culture and polity Yet China is dominated by a single Leninist party that continues to rely heavily on its revolutionary heritage to generate political legitimacy With its messages of collectivism self sacrifice and class struggle that heritage is increasingly at odds with Chinese society and with the state s own neoliberal ideology of rapid paced development glorification of the market and entrepreneurship In this ambiguous political environment museums and their curators must negotiate between revolutionary ideology and new kinds of historical narratives that reflect and highlight a neoliberal present In Exhibiting the Past Kirk Denton analyzes types of museums and exhibitionary spaces from revolutionary history museums military museums and memorials to martyrs to museums dedicated to literature ethnic minorities and local history He discusses red tourism a state sponsored program developed in 2003 as a new form of patriotic education designed to make revolutionary history come alive and urban planning exhibition halls which project utopian visions of China's future that are rooted in new conceptions of the past Denton's method is narratological in the sense that he analyzes the stories museums tell about the past and the political and ideological implications of those stories Focusing on official exhibitionary culture rather than alternative or counter memory Denton reinserts the state back into the discussion of postsocialist culture because of its centrality to that culture and to show that state discourse in China is neither monolithic nor unchanging The book considers the variety of ways state museums are responding to the dramatic social technological and cultural changes China has experienced over the past three decades

A Continuous Revolution Barbara Mittler, 2020-03-17 Cultural Revolution Culture often denigrated as nothing but propaganda was liked not only in its heyday but continues to be enjoyed today A Continuous Revolution sets out to explain its legacy By considering Cultural Revolution propaganda art music stage works prints and posters comics and literature from the point of view of its longue dure Barbara Mittler suggests it was able to build on a tradition of earlier art works and this allowed for its sedimentation in cultural memory and its proliferation in contemporary China Taking the aesthetic experience of the Cultural Revolution 1966-1976 as her base Mittler juxtaposes close readings and analyses of cultural products from the period with impressions given in a series of personal interviews conducted in the early 2000s with Chinese from diverse class and generational backgrounds By including much testimony from these original voices Mittler illustrates the extremely multifaceted and contradictory nature of the Cultural Revolution both in terms of artistic production and of its cultural experience

The Encyclopedia of Propaganda Robert Cole, 1998 The Encyclopedia of Propaganda examines in great detail the historical political sociological cultural and artistic aspects of this propaganda around the world It addresses those forms of communication mass communication in particular that are intended to produce changes in thinking and behavior This well organized easy to use A-Z reference will be a valuable research tool for students of world history politics and literature and essential for those needing to make judgments about the credibility and relevance of the information they encounter

Propaganda and Art Sheryl Tuttle Ross, 1999 Chinese Art at the Crossroads Wu Hung, 2001 This volume is comprised primarily of the contents of Chinese art com an online magazine started in 1997 and brings together images essays interviews roundtable discussions eyewitness accounts and biographies published on the web in 2000 Its timely and diverse insider views are those of Chinese art critics living and working in China but also include scholars outside the China context To such a broad and diverse compilation of material professor Wu Hung brings both an insider point of view and an international sensibility His careful editing and organization of the material along with the six introductory essays he wrote for this volume make the book understandable and enjoyable to both the art scholar and the art enthusiast The Art of Persuasion Luciano Cheles, Lucio Sponza, 2001 Publisher Description Modern Chinese Literature and Culture , 2004 Mao Zedong and the Chinese Revolution Gregor Benton, 2008 Comprehensively indexed and with an introduction newly written by the editor a leading expert in the field Mao Zedong and the Chinese Revolution is sure to be recognized as a vital reference resource for all serious Mao scholars The Encyclopedia of Propaganda: Honduras-El Salvador War - Russia: 1855-1918 , 1998 Contains 510 alphabetically arranged essays that provide information about the historical political sociological cultural and artistic aspects of propaganda focusing on the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and includes bibliographies cross references maps charts photographs and an index

The Cultural Politics of Graffiti in Beijing Max D. Woodworth, 2007 Chairman Mao Badges Helen Wang, 2008 Millions of Chairman Mao badges were produced during China's Cultural Revolution and were worn by almost all Chinese people from Premier Zhou Enlai down to the smallest child Made in a wide variety of materials aluminium plastic bamboo porcelain gold silver copper iron and lead and with an extensive range of shapes sizes and designs they immediately became collectors items To give an idea of scale in China today serious collections start at 10 000 different Mao badges This catalogue starts with the modest collection of 300 Mao badges at the British Museum It is the first serious catalogue of its kind in a Western language While Chinese catalogues assume an extensive prior knowledge of Chinese revolutionary history this new English catalogue is designed for the beginner and specialist alike offering a narrative history as well as extensive glossaries of the symbolic imagery and slogans found on the badges Class Struggle and Deviant Labeling in Mao's China Wenhui Cai, 2001 This study investigates the entire process of deviant labeling under the leadership of Chairman Mao between 1950 and 1978 Through the use of life history materials that include autobiographies and memoirs published in both English and Chinese the causes of the labeling the lives of the deviants and the consequences of deviant labels on individuals family members and significant others are thoroughly analyzed It documents the impacts of labeling on the self concept of deviants and the creation of a new socially and politically defined deviant class the enemies of the people in Mao's China
