Existentialist Engagement in Wallace, Eggers and Foer Allard den Dulk, 2016-06-30 The novels of David Foster Wallace Dave Eggers and Jonathan Safran Foer are increasingly regarded as representing a new trend an aesthetic sea change in contemporary American literature Post postmodernism and New Sincerity are just two of the labels that have been attached to this trend But what do these labels mean What characterizes and connects these novels Den Dulk shows that the connection between these works lies in their shared philosophical dimension On the one hand they portray excessive self reflection and endless irony as the two main problems of contemporary Western life On the other hand the novels embody an attempt to overcome these problems sincerity reality commitment and community are portrayed as the virtues needed to achieve a meaningful life This shared philosophical dimension is analyzed by viewing the novels in light of the existentialist philosophies of Søren Kierkegaard Jean Paul Sartre Ludwig Wittgenstein and Albert Camus

The Contemporary Post-Apocalyptic Novel Diletta De Cristofaro, 2019-12-26 Traditional apocalyptic texts concern the advent of a better world at the end of history that will make sense of everything that happened before But what is at stake in the contemporary shift to apocalyptic narratives in which the utopian end of time is removed The Contemporary Post Apocalyptic Novel offers an innovative critical model for our cultural obsession with the end by focussing on the significance of time in the 21st century post apocalyptic novel and challenging traditional apocalyptic logic Once confined to the genre of science fiction the increasing popularity of end of the world narratives has caused apocalyptic writing to feature in the work of some of contemporary literature's most well known fiction writers Considering novels by Will Self Cormac McCarthy David Mitchell

Emily St John Mandel Jeanette Winterson and others Diletta De Cristofaro frames the contemporary apocalyptic imagination as a critique of modernity's apocalyptic conception of time and history Interdisciplinary in scope the book historicises apocalyptic beliefs by exploring how relentlessly they have shaped the modern world Forces in Fiction, and Other Essays Richard Burton, 1902 Transmedia Storytelling and the Apocalypse Stephen Joyce, 2018-08-21 This book confronts the question of why our culture is so fascinated by the apocalypse It ultimately argues that while many see the post apocalyptic genre as reflective of contemporary fears it has actually co evolved with the transformations in our mediascape to become a perfect vehicle for transmedia storytelling The post apocalyptic offers audiences a portal to a fantasy world that is at once strange and familiar offers a high degree of internal consistency and completeness and allows for a diversity of stories by different creative teams in the same story world With case studies of franchises such as The Walking Dead and The Terminator Transmedia Storytelling and the Apocalypse offers analyses of how shifts in media industries and reception cultures have promoted a new kind of open world building narrative across film television video games and print For transmedia scholars and fans of the genre this book shows how the end of the world is really just the beginning Forms and functions in J.M. Coetzee's "Foe" Christina Binter, 2022-07-13 Seminar paper from the year 2017 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2 language English abstract The main aim of this seminar paper is to introduce the novel Foe by J M Coetzee and to give an overview about the forms and functions of it Therefore a closer look at metafiction historiographic metafiction and meta narrative techniques is necessary due to the fact that the novel is meta narrative Since the story of the island narrated by the protagonist Susan Barton is important for an analysis it is not enough just to focus on that Susan's island story serves as a kind of framework because the novel is about the art of writing and story telling Firstly the author J M Coetzee his biography and his many works will be presented Secondly the term metafiction its definition and different forms will be discussed After that there will be a short overview of the novel including plot characters and narrative techniques which are important to understand the meaning of the book This will be followed by the chapter metafiction in which some forms of metafiction as well as some elements of the story supported by some examples will be presented The final section will give an overall picture of Coetzee's story Foe The Fiction Magazine, 1982 Teaching and Learning Literature with Children and Young Adults, 1996 Detective Fiction and Anti-Detective Fiction. Edgar Allen Poe and Paul Auster in Comparison Annika Zöpf, 2021-01-27 Seminar paper from the year 2020 in the subject German Studies Comparative Literature grade 1 3 University of Stuttgart language English abstract In a preface to his books on crime fiction Stephen Knight says No detective is needed to identify the vigorous life and remarkable diversity of crime fiction This statement is certainly true The pool of crime fiction literature readers of the twenty first century can choose from is huge Statistics show that In 2017 crime became the UK's most popular adult fiction genre outselling general and literary fiction for the first time To narrow this abundance of information down by a good chunk this paper only focuses of detective fiction a sub genre of crime fiction More specifically it takes a look at the works of two authors One of these authors is Edgar Allan Poe who is often deemed the father of the detective genre a claim that will be investigated later on in this paper His influence on detective fiction can be traced throughout the centuries but is particularly strong in Paul Auster Auster in turn epitomizes postmodern detective fiction also called anti detective fiction which is a sub genre of traditional detective fiction He is the second author chosen here The goal of this paper is to determine why postmodern detective fiction is considered a sub genre of traditional detective fiction shining light on what sets it apart from the traditional detective fiction
