Dazzle Gradually:

Dazzle Gradually Lynn Margulis, Dorion Sagan, 2007 A collection of essays covering a variety of scientific topics including the nature of technology to the human body evolution and ecology Death & Sex Tyler Volk, Dorion Sagan, 2009-10-13 On DEATH What is shared by spawning Pacific salmon towering trees and suicidal bacteria In his lucid and concise exploration of how and why things die Tyler Volk explains the intriguing ways creatures including ourselves use death to actually enhance life Death is not simply the end of the living though even in that aspect the Grim Reaper has long been essential to natural selection Indeed the exquisite schemes and styles of death that have emerged from evolution have been essential to the great story from life's beginnings in tiny bacteria nearly four thousand million years ago to ancient human rituals surrounding death and continuing to the existential concerns of human culture and consciousness today Volk weaves together autobiography biology Earth history and results of fascinating studies that show how thoughts of our own mortality affect our everyday lives to prove how an understanding of what some have called the ultimate taboo can enrich the celebration of life and SEX In Sex Dorion Sagan takes a delightful irreverent and informative romp through the science philosophy and literature of humanity's most obsessive subject Have you ever wondered what the anatomy and promiscuous behaviors of chimpanzees and the sexual bullying of gorillas tell us about ourselves Why we lost our hair What amoebas have to do with desire Linking evolutionary biology to salacious readings of the lives and thoughts of such notables as the Marquis de Sade and Simone de Beauvoir and discussing works as varied as The Story of O and Silence of the Lambs Sex touches on a potpourri of interrelated topics ranging from animal genitalia to sperm competition the difference between nakedness and nudity jealousy's status as an aphrodisiac and the origins of language Casanova and music ovulation and clothes mother in law jokes and alpha females love and loneliness A brief wonderfully entertaining highly literate foray into the origins and evolution of sex Two books in one cover Death Sex unravel and answer some of life's most fundamental questions

Blumenberg's Rhetoric DS Mayfield, 2023-04-27 Marking the 50th anniversary of one among this philosopher's most distinguished pieces Blumenberg's Rhetoric proffers a decidedly diversified interaction with the essay polyvalently entitled Anthropological Approach to the Topicality or Currency Relevance even actualitas of Rhetoric Anthropologische Annäherung an die Aktualität der Rhetorik first published in 1971 Following Blumenberg's lead the contributors consider and tackle their topics rhetorically treating inter alia the variegated discourses of Phenomenology and Truthcraft of Intellectual History and Anthropology as well as the interplay of methods from a plurality of viewpoints The diachronically extensive disciplinarily diverse essays of this publication notably in the current lingua franca will facilitate and are to conduce to further scholarship with respect to Blumenberg and the art of rhetoric With contributions by Sonja Feger Simon Godart Joachim Kipper DS Mayfield Heinrich Niehues Prebting Daniel Rudy Hiller Katrin Trstedt Alexander Waszynski Friedrich Weber Steinhaus Nicola Zambon Queer/Adaptation Pamela Demory, 2019-02-15 This collection of essays illuminates the intersection of queer and adaptation Both adaptation and queerness suffer from the stereotype of being secondary to identify something as an adaptation is to recognize it in relation to something else that seems more original more authentic Similarly to identify something as queer is to place it in relation to what is assumed to be normal or straight This ground breaking volume brings together fifteen original essays that critically challenge these assumptions about originality authenticity and value The volume is organized in three parts The essays in Part I examine what happens when an adaptation queers its source text and explore the role of the author screenwriter director in making those choices The essays in Part II look at what happens when filmmakers push against boundaries of various kinds time and space texts and bodies genres and formats And the essays in Part III explore adaptations whose source texts cannot be easily pinned down where there are multiple adaptations and where the adaptation process itself is queer The book includes discussion of a wide variety of texts including opera classic film genre fiction documentary musicals literary fiction low budget horror camp classics and experimental texts providing a comprehensive and interdisciplinary introduction to the myriad ways in which queer and adaptation overlap

Ordinary Oblivion and the Self Unmoored Jennifer R. Rapp, 2014-03-03 Rapp begins with a question posed by the poet Theodore Roethke Should we say that the self once perceived becomes a soul Through her examination of Plato's Phaedrus and her insights about the place of forgetting in a life Rapp answers Roethke's query with a resounding Yes In so doing Rapp reimagines the Phaedrus interprets anew Plato's relevance to contemporary life and offers an innovative account of forgetting as a fertile fragility constitutive of humanity Drawing upon poetry and comparisons with other ancient Greek and Daoist texts Rapp brings to light overlooked features of the Phaedrus disrupts longstanding interpretations of Plato as the facile champion of memory and offers new lines of sight onto and from his corpus Her attention to the Phaedrus and her meditative apprehension of the permeable character of human life leave our understanding of both Plato and forgetting inescapably altered Unsettle everything you think you know about Plato suspend the twentieth century entreaty to Never forget and behold here a new mode of critical reflection in which textual study and humanistic inquiry commingle to expansive effect

Stages of Transmutation Tom Idema, 2018-10-31 Stages of Transmutation Science Fiction Biology and Environmental Posthumanism develops the theoretical perspective of environmental posthumanism through analyses of acclaimed science fiction novels by Greg Bear

Octavia Butler Kim Stanley Robinson and Jeff VanderMeer in which the human species suddenly transforms in response to new or changing environments Narrating dramatic ecological events of human to nonhuman encounter invasion and transmutation these novels allow the reader to understand the planet as an unstable stage for evolution and the human body as a home for bacteria and viruses Idema argues that by drawing tension from biological theories of interaction and emergence e g symbiogenesis epigenetics these works unsettle conventional relations among characters technologies story worlds and emplotment refiguring the psychosocial work of the novel as always already biophysical Problematizing a desire to compartmentalize and control life as the property of human subjects these novels imagine life as an environmentally mediated staged event that enlists human and nonhuman actors Idema demonstrates how literary narratives of transmutation render biological lessons of environmental instability and ecological interdependence both meaningful and urgent a vital task in a time of mass extinction hyperpollution and climate change This volume is an important intervention for scholars of the environmental humanities posthumanism literature and science and science and technology studies

The Space of Technicity Robert Gorny, Stavros Kousoulas, Dulmini Perera, Andrej Radman, 2024-04-15 Desperate times demand optimistic transdisciplinary measures This volume unites a select group of thinkers who courageously traverse disciplinary boundaries What brings them together is the least stratified component a shared problem It is a widely recognised that a problem gets the solution it merits However only a few acknowledge that a problem seldom neatly fits within a single discipline nor does it conform to the principle of general equivalence Handling its irreducibility and non entailment is a skill possessed by very few Even fewer take the quasi causal capacity of what we term the space of technicity seriously The space of technicity the shared problem of this volume is a consequence of immanence Each configuration of surfaces comprising the built environment produces an intangible effect acting as a quasi cause It can be referred to as downward causation or the timely rediscovery of neo finalism In this volume it is approached it from the perspective of axiology The space of technicity allows us to evade techno determinism without adopting an anything goes attitude That which has become manifest could have individuated differently However the potential of a body cannot be discerned before intervening in the causal fabric of agential reality to extract the singular points that make certain outcomes more likely than others surpassing mere probability When operating within the ethico aesthetic paradigm where sense becomes intricately dependent on sensibility and vice versa the volume s attitude might be said to approximate the Spinozian third kind of knowledge that intuits design and its space of technicity beyond mere imagination or reason This edited volume was inspired by a virtual round table that exhibited a high degree of resonance among the participants www.youtube.com/watch?v=cBiBAgxC5FM Dazzle Gradually, 1997 Kings of B'more R. The Truth Must Dazzle Gradually Helen Rippier Wheeler, 2013-08 The truth must dazzle gradually wrote Emily Dickinson Here is an account of the first 20 years of an unwanted only child entrusted by the legal system in 1920s and 1930s America to the divorcing female parent It was evoked by the television film Sybil a study of a woman transformed by years of physical and emotional abuse by her parents By considering the scant professional literature of the complex subject and her first twenty years Dr Wheeler critiques the genesis of making one's way out of a potentially crippling life Part of this process is an attempt to account for her parents behavior by examining their early lives There is evidence that on the scale of childhood trauma divorce is second only to parental death a long lasting and wrenching experience for many The quality of the mother child relationship is the single most critical factor in determining how children feel about themselves in the post divorce decade and how well they function in the domains of their lives Fictional kids of scripted media are typically armed with built in insights referred to as self esteem and courage Snapshot memories employed by this author demonstrate great inequities associated with the one child one custodian arrangement The mother's objective shifted from unloading to controlling to capturing the adult daughter The author who is not opposed to divorce began to make her way out in two senses discernment and change artifice and its relation to an audience By concentrating on these she examines the radically experimental ways in which Dickinson and Stevens used the genre to question cultural certainties of gender language and the nature of the individual
