CODE | WORDS Technology & Theory in the Museum Ed Rodley,Suse Cairns,Robert Stein,2015-11-30 CODE WORDS brings together leading museum thinkers and practitioners to explore emerging issues about the nature of museums in the light of the dramatic and ongoing impact of digital technologies Originally an online dialogue this series of conversations explores challenging questions about the identity of museums their role in society their responsibility to serve a global public and their very nature in a digital age The authors aim to inspire change and to demonstrate the important relationship between emerging digital practices and museum theory A timely exploration of how to engage with digital technologies Laurent Gaveau Director The Lab Google Cultural Institute Exciting important and wide ranging Sree Sreenivasan Chief Digital Officer Metropolitan Museum of Art Like the future it is experimental uncertain and brilliant Nina Simon Executive Director Santa Cruz Museum of Art and History author of The Participatory Museum Open Licensing for Cultural Heritage Gill Hamilton,Fred Saunderson,2017-08-18 This practical and explanatory guide for library and cultural heritage professionals introduces and explains the use of open licences for content data and metadata in libraries and other cultural heritage organisations Using rich background information international case studies and examples of best practice this book outlines how and why open licences should and can be used with the sector s content data and metadata Open Licensing for Cultural Heritage digs into the concept of open in relation to intellectual property providing context through the development of different fields including open education open source open data and open government It explores the organisational benefits of open licensing and the open movement including the importance of content discoverability arguments for wider collections impact and access the practical benefits of simplicity and scalability and more ethical and principled arguments related to protection of public content and the public domain Content covered includes an accessible introduction to relevant concepts themes and names including Creative Commons attribution model licences and licence versions distinctions between content that has been openly licensed and content that is in the public domain and why professionals in the sector should be aware of these differences an exploration of the organisational benefits of open licensing and the open movement the benefits and risks associated with open licensing a range of practical case studies from organisations including Newcastle Libraries the University of Edinburgh Statens Museum for Kunst the National Gallery of Denmark and the British Library This book will be useful reading for staff and policy makers across the gallery library archive and museum GLAM sector who need a clear understanding of the open licensing environment opportunities risks and approaches to implementation This includes library and information professionals library and information services LIS professionals working specifically in the digital field including digital curation digitisation digital production resource discovery developers It will also be of use to students of LIS Science digital curation digital humanities archives and records management and museum studies Museums and Public Art? Cher Krause Knight,Harriet F. Senie,2018-06-11 While many museums have ignored public art as a distinct arena of art production and display others have either grudgingly or enthusiastically embraced it Some institutions have partnered with public art agencies to expand the scope of special exhibitions other museums have attempted to establish in house public art programs This is the first book to contextualize the collaborations between museums and public art through a range of essays marked by their coherence of topical focus written by leading and emerging scholars and artists Organized into three sections it represents a major contribution to the field of art history in general and to those of public art and museum studies in particular It includes essays by art historians critics curators arts administrators and artists all of whom help to finally codify the largely unwritten history of how museums and public art have and continue to intersect Key questions are both addressed and offered as topics for further discussion Who originates such public art initiatives funds them and most importantly establishes the philosophy behind them Is the efficacy of these initiatives evaluated in the same way as other museum exhibitions and programs Can public art ever be a permanent feature in any museum And finally are the museum and public art ultimately at odds or able to mutually benefit one another The Future of Museum and Gallery Design Suzanne MacLeod,Tricia Austin,Jonathan Hale,Oscar Ho Hing-Kay,2018-06-18 The Future of Museum and Gallery Design explores new research and practice in museum design Placing a specific emphasis on social responsibility in its broadest sense the book emphasises the need for a greater understanding of the impact of museum design in the experiences of visitors in the manifestation of the vision and values of museums and galleries and in the shaping of civic spaces for culture in our shared social world The chapters included in the book propose a number of innovative approaches to museum design and museum design research Collectively contributors plead for more open and creative ways of making museums and ask that museums recognize design as a resource to be harnessed towards a form of museum making that is culturally located and makes a significant contribution to our personal social environmental and economic sustainability Such an approach demands new ways of conceptualizing museum and gallery design new ways of acknowledging the potential of design and new experimental and research led approaches to the shaping of cultural institutions internationally The Future of Museum and Gallery Design should be of great interest to academics and postgraduate students in the fields of museum studies gallery studies and heritage studies as well as architecture and design who are interested in understanding more about design as a resource in museums It should also be of great interest to museum and design practitioners and museum leaders Museums and Digital Maturity Lauren M. Vargas,Katherine Jones,2025-11-14 Museums and Digital Maturity helps museums to understand why they should assess their digital maturity and explains how to undertake an assessment even if an institution has a lack of dedicated funding or digital expertise Informed and influenced by business development models and practices the book demonstrates how museum professionals can draw upon business language and tools to assess their institution s digital maturity Explaining how to select the right tools and resources for assessment who to involve in the assessment process and identify what is needed to sustain transformation Vargas and Burton Jones demonstrate how professionals can adopt a strategy that will assist the cultural institution to master the increasingly complex digital landscape Taking account of the unique context of each institution this book does not advocate the use of any one digital maturity assessment Instead it helps museums to evaluate the tools and methods decide what is best for them and then make changes to one area at a time thereby helping the institution to become more digitally mature Museums and Digital Maturity includes a series of case studies and prompts that will be useful to practitioners and leaders working in museums around the world The prompts will help readers to make sense of the concepts discussed within the text and will be particularly useful to students engaged in the study of museums heritage and arts management The Digital Future of Museums Keir Winesmith,Suse Anderson,2020-02-19 The Digital Future of Museums Conversations and Provocations argues that museums today can neither ignore the importance of digital technologies when engaging their communities nor fail to address the broader social economic and cultural changes that shape their digital offerings Through moderated conversations with respected and inf luential museum practitioners thinkers and experts in related fields this book explores the role of digital technology in contemporary museum practice within Europe the U S Australasia and Asia It offers provocations and reflections about effective practice that will help prepare today s museums for tomorrow culminating in a set of competing possible visions for the future of the museum sector The Digital Future of Museums is essential reading for museum studies students and those who teach or write about the museum sector It will also be of interest to those who work in for and with museums as well as practitioners working in galleries archives and libraries Centering the Museum Elaine Heumann Gurian,2021-09-14 Drawing on Elaine Heumann Gurian s fifty years of museum experience Centering the Museum calls on the profession to help visitors experience their shared humanity and find social uses for public buildings in order to make museums more central and useful to everyone in difficult times Following the same format as Civilizing the Museum this new volume includes material written especially for a re emergent time and relevant public lectures not included in the author s previous book Divided into six separate content clusters with over twenty different essays the book identifies many small subtle ways museums can become welcoming to more and to all Drawing on her extensive experience as a deputy director senior advisor to high profile government museums lecturer and teacher around the world the author provides recommendations for inclusive actions by intertwining sociological thinking with practical decision making strategies Writing reflectively Elaine also provides heritage students and professionals with insights that will help move their careers and organizations into more equitable yet successful terrain Centering the Museum will be an excellent companion volume to Civilizing the Museum and as such will be a useful support for emerging museum leaders It will be especially interesting to academics and students engaged in the study of cultural administration as well as museum and heritage practitioners working around the world Applied Science & Technology Index ,1996 Subject Catalog Library of Congress, Catalogue of the education library in the South Kenington museum Science museum
