Stoddart, 2018-03-29 The BBC television series Downton Abbey 2010-2016 highly rated in the UK achieved cult status among American viewers harking back to the days when serial dramas ruled the airwaves The show's finale was one of the most watched in all of television history This collection of new essays by British and American contributors explores how a series about life in an early 20th century English manor home resonated with American audiences Topics include the role of the house in literature and film the changing roles of women and the servant class the influence of jazz and fashion and attitudes regarding education and the class system

The Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Werner Wolf, 2011-01-01 One possible description of the contemporary medial landscape in Western culture is that it has gone meta to an unprecedented extent so that a remarkable meta culture has emerged Indeed metareference i.e. self reflexive comments on or references to various kinds of media related aspects of a given medial artefact or performance specific media and arts or the media in general is omnipresent and can nowadays be encountered in high art and literature as frequently as in their popular counterparts in the traditional media as well as in new media From the Simpsons pop music children's literature computer games and pornography to the contemporary visual arts feature film postmodern fiction drama and even architecture everywhere one can find metareferential explorations comments on or criticism of representation medial conventions or modes of production and reception and related issues Within individual media and genres notably in research on postmodernist metafiction this outspoken tendency towards metaization is known well enough and various reasons have been given for it Yet never has there been an attempt to account for what one may aptly term the current metareferential turn on a larger transmedial scale This is what The Metareferential Turn in Contemporary Arts and Media Forms Functions Attempts at Explanation undertakes to do as a sequel to its predecessor the volume Metareference across Media vol 4 in the series Studies in Intermediality which was dedicated to theoretical issues and transhistorical case studies Coming from diverse disciplinary and methodological backgrounds the contributors to the present volume propose explanations of impressive subtlety breadth and depth for the current situation in addition to exploring individual forms and functions of metareference which may be linked with particular explanations As expected there is no monocausal reason to be found for the situation under scrutiny yet the proposals made have in their combination a remarkable explanatory power which contributes to a better understanding of an important facet of current media production and reception The essays assembled in the volume which also contains an introduction with a detailed survey over the possibilities of accounting for the metareferential turn will be relevant to students and scholars from a wide variety of fields cultural history at large intermediality and media studies as well as more particularly literary studies music film and art history

Seven Steps to a Comprehensive Literature Review Anthony J. Onwuegbuzie, Rebecca Frels, 2016-02-04

This dynamic guide to doing literature reviews demystifies the process in seven steps to show researchers how to produce a comprehensive literature review. Teaching techniques to bring systematic thoroughness and reflexivity to research, the authors show how to achieve a rich ethical and reflexive review. What makes this book unique:

- Focuses on multimodal texts and settings such as observations, documents, social media, experts in the field and secondary data so that your review covers the full research environment.
- Puts mixed methods at the centre of the process.
- Shows you how to synthesize information thematically rather than merely summarizing the existing literature and findings.
- Brings culture into the process to help you address bias and understand the role of knowledge interpretation.
- Guiding you through Teaches the CORE of the literature review.
- Critical thinking, Organization, Reflections and Evaluation and provides a guide for reflexivity at the end of each of the seven steps.
- Visualizes the steps with roadmaps so you can track progress and self evaluate as you learn the steps.
- This book is the essential best practices guide for students and researchers providing the understanding and tools to approach both the how and why of a rigorous comprehensive literature review.
