1.1 CHEMISTRY AND CHEMICALS

- Chemistry is the study of composition, structure, properties and reactions of matter.
- A chemical is a substance that always has the same composition and properties wherever it's found. Chemical and substance are used interchangeably.

1.2 SCIENTIFIC METHOD: THINKING LIKE A SCIENTIST

- The scientific method is the process of making observations, proposing a hypothesis, and testing the hypothesis; after repeated experiments validate the hypothesis, it may become a theory.
 1. Observations (information determined by noting and recording a natural phenomenon)- first step in scientific method - when an observation always seems to be true, it may be stated as a law but a law does not explain that observation.
 2. Hypothesis (an unverified explanation of a natural phenomenon) - must be stated in a way that can be tested by experiments.
 3. Experiments (a procedure that tests the validity of a hypothesis) - done to find a relationship between the hypothesis and the observations.
 4. Conclusion/Theory (an explanation of an observation that has been validated by repeated experiments that support a hypothesis) (an explanation for an observation supported by additional experiments that confirm the hypothesis)

1.3 STUDYING AND LEARNING CHEMISTRY
