Dixon, 2015-11-09 This book provides content that arms clinicians with the core knowledge and competencies necessary to be effective informatics leaders in health care organizations. The content is drawn from the areas recognized by the American Council on Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) as necessary to prepare physicians to become Board Certified in Clinical Informatics. Clinical informaticians transform health care by analyzing, designing, selecting, implementing, managing and evaluating information and communication technologies (ICT) that enhance individual and population health outcomes, improve patient care processes and strengthen the clinician-patient relationship. As the specialty grows, the content in this book covers areas useful to nurses, pharmacists and information science graduate students in clinical health informatics programs. These core competencies for clinical informatics are needed by all those who lead and manage ICT in health organizations and there are likely to be future professional certifications that require the content in this text.
