Course In General Linguistics Open Court Classics:

Course in General Linguistics Ferdinand de Saussure, 1986 Reconstructed from lecture notes of his students these are the best records of the theories of Ferdinand De Saussure the Swiss linguist whose theories of language are acknowledged as a primary source of the twentieth century movement known as Structuralism Course in General Linguistics Ferdinand de Saussure, 2011 The Cours de linguistique generale reconstructed from students notes after Saussure's death in 1913 founded modern linguistic theory by breaking the study of language free from a merely historical and comparativist approach Saussure's new method now known as Structuralism has since been applied to such diverse areas as art architecture folklore literary criticism and philosophy

Columbia School Linguistics in the 21st Century Nancy Stern, Ricardo Otheguy, Wallis Reid, Jaseleen Sackler, 2019-10-15 This collection is the fifth volume of selected papers to emerge from Columbia School CS linguistics conferences A radically functionalist approach CS shares with Cognitive linguistics the view that grammar is composed of form meaning correspondences CS views language as a symbolic tool whose structure is shaped both by its communicative function and by the characteristics of its users The volume includes papers on methodological issues and innovative analyses on English Spanish and Mandarin that illustrate the value of the strict application of clearly spelled out theoretical principles to the execution of linguistic analysis Four of the volume's eleven papers are written in Spanish and all papers have abstracts in both English and Spanish An introduction highlights the theoretical and analytical premises of CS and their differences from and similarities with cognitive functional approaches The collection will be of interest to researchers and laymen who aim to understand the role of language in human communication

Linguistics Out of the Closet Tyler Kibbey, 2023-11-06 Queer linguistics in its position as both a linguistic science of and for queer folk is inherently agitating to the disciplinary anxiety of a general linguistic science It represents as all queer science does a disruption of the normative modes of knowledge production and a displacement of academic authority This collection reconsiders the placement of the queer subject both as the researcher and as the researched within and beyond the discipline and provides an intellectual space for the interdisciplinary and sometimes anti disciplinary linguistic science of gender and sexuality In three sections it respectively considers the development of hyper speciated queer linguistic subfields the interdisciplinarity of intersectional approaches to queer language and the institution of queer linguistic science both within and beyond the academy Taken together the essays in this collection confront the scientific and institutional discipline of linguistics from a queer vantage point one which is perhaps inherently interdisciplinary in its formulation

The Interpersonal Metafunction in 1 Corinthians 1-4 James D. Dvorak, 2021-04-19 In The Interpersonal Metafunction in 1 Corinthians 1-4 James D Dvorak offers a linguistic critical discourse analysis of 1 Cor 1-4 utilizing Appraisal Theory a model rooted in the modern sociolinguistic paradigm known as Systemic Functional Linguistics This work is concerned primarily with the interpersonal meanings encoded in the text and how they pertain to the act of resocialization Dvorak pays particular attention to the linguistics of appraisal in Paul's language to determine the values with which Paul expects believers in Christ to align. This book will be of great value to biblical scholars and students with interests in biblical Greek functional linguistics, appraisal theory, hermeneutics, exegesis and 1 Corinthians. General Intellectuals McKenzie Wark, 2017-05-16 A guide to the thinkers and the ideas that will shape the future. What happened to the public intellectuals that used to challenge and inform us? Who is the Sartre or De Beauvoir of the internet age? General Intellectuals argues that we no longer have such singular figures but we do have general intellectuals whose writing could, if read together, explain our times. Covering topics such as culture, politics, work, technology and the Anthropocene, each chapter is a concise account of an individual thinker, providing useful context and connections to the work of the others. McKenzie Wark's distinctive readings are appreciations but are also critical of how neoliberal universities militate against cooperative intellectual work to understand and change the world. The thinkers included are Amy Wendling, Kojin Karatani, Paolo Virno, Yann Moulier Boutang, Maurizio Lazzarato, Franco Bifo Berardi, Angela McRobbie, Paul Gilroy, Slavoj Žižek, Jodi Dean, Chantal Mouffe, Wendy Brown, Judith Butler, Azumo Hiroki, Paul B. Preciado, Wendy Chun, Timothy Morton, Quentin Meillassoux, Isabelle Stengers and Donna Haraway. Language, Madness, and Desire Michel Foucault, 2015-05-26 As a transformative thinker of the twentieth century whose work spanned all branches of the humanities, Michel Foucault had a complex and profound relationship with literature. And yet this critical aspect of his thought, because it was largely expressed in speeches and interviews, remains virtually unknown to even his most loyal readers. This book brings together previously unpublished transcripts of oral presentations in which Foucault speaks at length about literature and its links to some of his principal themes: madness, language and criticism, and truth and desire. The associations between madness and language, and madness and silence, preoccupy Foucault in two 1963 radio broadcasts presented here, in which he ranges among literary examples from Cervantes and Shakespeare to Diderot before taking up questions about Artaud's literary correspondence, lettres de cachet, and the materiality of language. In his lectures on the relations among language, the literary work and literature, he discusses Joyce, Proust, Chateaubriand, Racine and Corneille, as well as the linguist Roman Jakobson. What we know as literature, Foucault contends, begins with the Marquis de Sade, to whose writing particularly La Nouvelle Justine and Juliette, he devotes a full two-part lecture series focusing on notions of literary self-consciousness. Following his meditations on history in the recently published Speech Begins after Death, this current volume makes clear the importance of literature to Foucault's thought and intellectual development.

Library and Information Science and the Philosophy of Science Birger Hjørland, 2005 This e-book is concerned with metatheories in Library and Information Science (LIS) and especially with the philosophy of science of LIS. Metatheories are theories about the description, investigation, analysis or criticism of the theories in a domain. Course in General Linguistics Ferdinand de Saussure, 1964 Metaphilosophy Henri Lefebvre, 2016-07-12 In Metaphilosophy, Henri Lefebvre works through the implications of Marx's revolutionary thought to consider philosophy's engagement with the world. Lefebvre takes Marx's notion of the world becoming philosophical and philosophy becoming worldly as a leitmotif examining the relation between Hegelian Marxist supersession and Nietzschean overcoming Metaphilosophy is conceived of as a transformation of philosophy developing it into a programme of radical worldwide change. The book demonstrates Lefebvre's threefold debt to Hegel, Marx and Nietzsche but it also brings a number of other figures into the conversation including Sartre, Heidegger and Axelos. A key text in Lefebvre's oeuvre Metaphilosophy is also a milestone in contemporary thinking about philosophy's relation to the world.

Course in General Linguistics (Classic Reprint) Ferdinand De Saussure, 2017-09-10 Excerpt from Course in General Linguistics. All those who had the privilege of participating in his richly rewarding instruction regretted that no book had resulted from it. After his death we hoped to find in his manuscripts Obligingly made available to us by Mme De Saussure a faithful or at least an adequate outline of his inspiring lectures. At first we thought that we might simply collate F. De Saussure's personal notes and the notes of his students. We were grossly misled. We found nothing or almost nothing that resembled his students' note books. As soon as they had served their purpose F. De Saussure destroyed the rough drafts of the outlines used for his lectures. In the drawers of his secretary we found only older outlines which, although certainly not worthless, could not be integrated into the material of the three courses. Our discovery was all the more disappointing since professorial duties had made it impossible for us to attend F. De Saussure's last lectures and these mark just as brilliant a step in his career as the much earlier one that had witnessed the appearance of his treatise on the vocalic system of proto Indo-European. Levels of Constituent Structure in New Testament Greek Michael Wayne Palmer, 1995. Levels of Constituent Structure challenges the foundations of the established grammars of New Testament Greek. Dr. Palmer demonstrates the sound empirical basis for word-level grammatical categories such as noun and verb as well as phrase-level categories. His analysis, however, shows that such categories are inadequate for explaining some obvious features of New Testament Greek. Using assumptions from generative linguistics and abundant empirical evidence drawn from New Testament texts, he argues that these two levels of grammatical categories must be supplemented by a third level between words and full phrases.
