Minimalistic immunologically defined gene expression T helper cell 1 (MIDGE-Th1®) vectors coding for Interleukin 12 and -18 in combination with the transfection agent SAINT-18 have systemic antitumoral effects on equine melanomas Kathrin Mählmann, 2012-11-23 Equine melanomas are the most common neoplasms in older grey horses Until now no curative therapy is established Xenogenic DNA vaccination represents a promising therapeutic approach Goal of the present study was to evaluate the safety and clinical efficacy of vaccination of grey horses with natural occurring melanomas with MIDGE Th1 vectors encoding for equine eq IL12 and eqILRAP IL18 alone or in combination with human gp100 hgp100 or human tyrosinase htyr Three groups each n 9 of adult grey horses with variable numbers of melanomas received three intramuscular and three intradermal peritumoral vaccinations Each group was treated with MIDGE Th1 vectors coding for eqIL12 and eqILRAP IL18 One group group gp100 was additionally treated with 500 g hgp100 MIDGE Th1 and one group with 500 g htyr MIDGE Th1 group tyr The third group did not receive additional DNA group IL12 18 Vectors were complexed with the transfection agent SAINT 18 The injections were performed on days 1 22 and 78 intradermally around one selected melanoma locally treated melanoma and intramuscularly as a systemic treatment A general examination of the horses and evaluation of local reactions at the injection site were performed daily during hospitalisation on the day of each injection and 3 days after each injection as well as on day 120 In each horse the locally treated melanoma and up to 8 non locally treated melanomas were measured before each injection and on day 120 by calliper and ultrasound The relative volumes were calculated in relation to day 1 100% For the evaluation of the generation of specific CD8 cytotoxic T cells against hgp100 and htyr peripheral blood mononuclear cells PBMCs isolated before each injection and on day 120 were stimulated in vitro with autologous dermal cells transfected with hgp100 or htyr Interferon IFN as a response to this specific stimulation was measured by intracellular immunofluorescence staining Specific serum antibodies against hgp100 and htyr were measured at equivalent time points as cytotoxic T cells using a cell based flow cytometric assay Human embryonic kidney cells transfected with hgp100 or htyr served as a source for antigens The only consistent abnormal finding upon clinical examination of the treated horses was an increased body temperature A significant increase in body temperature 38 7 0 59 C was recorded after 40 of the 81 injections and usually lasted for one day Local inflammatory reactions and depigmentation were observed in all groups starting at day 3 after the first application The relative tumor volume % was significantly reduced to 71 5 29 73% calliper measurements and 87 0 24 42% ultrasound measurements There were no significant differences detected between groups gp100 tyr and IL12 18 No difference was seen in reduction of tumor volume between locally treated and non locally treated melanoma Neither a cellular nor a humoral immune response against the vaccine antigens could be detected In this study treatment with eqIL12 and eqILRAP IL18 DNA in combination with SAINT 18 showed a systemic effect against grey horse melanoma There was no additional clinical or immunological effect observed by vaccination with MIDGE Th1 vectors encoding hgp100 and htyr It remains unclear whether the antitumoral effect was caused by the interleukins unmethylated CpG motifs or the induction of an immune reaction by the combination of DNA and transfection reagent Reasons for the absence of a specific immune response may be an inadequate selection of dosages or treatment interval It is also possible that the sensitivity of the immunoassays was too low to detect a subclinical immune response Further studies to characterize the antitumoral effects of the treatment used in this study and modifications of the treatment protocol to achieve a potential specific immune response are warranted The Encyclopædia Britannica: Index Hugh Chisholm, James Louis Garvin, 1926 unexplored means by which a hierarchy of initial and capital letters and their colours are used by the scribes and how this hierarchy can provide a means by which the modern researcher can navigate through the manuscripts Also described in great detail are the structure and contents of Breviaries Missals and the corresponding books with music This new edition updates the bibliography and the new preface by Hughes presents his recent thoughts about terminology and methods of liturgical abbreviation
