Miller, 1989-09-14 This book was first published in 1989 The Soviet presence and purposes in Latin America are a matter of great controversy yet no serious study was hitherto combined with a regional perspective concentrating on the nature and regional impact of Soviet activity on the ground and diplomatic analysis examining the strategic and ideological factors that influence Soviet foreign policy Nicola Miller's lucid and accessible survey of Soviet Latin American relations over the past quarter century demonstrates clearly that existing heavily geo political accounts distort the real nature of Soviet activity in the area closely constrained by local political social and geographical factors In a broadly chronological series of case studies Dr Miller argues that American counter influence apart enormous physical and communicational barriers obstruct Soviet Latin American relations and that the lack of economic complementarity imposes a natural obstacle to trading growth even Cuba often cited as proof of Soviet designs upon the area is only an apparent exception Fidel Castro and Africa's Liberation Struggle Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, Charity Manyeruke, 2020-10-01 The post 1959 Cuban government's engagement with Africa which was led by its charismatic and revolutionary leader Fidel Castro had two connecting dimensions military internationalism and humanitarian internationalism While African states and societies benefited immensely from these engagements it was Fidel Castro's military assistance towards the decolonization of and the pushback of Apartheid South Africa that received the loudest attention and ovation in the developing world Fidel Castro this book argues was never motivated by economic selfish or geopolitical considerations but rather by the altruism and the certainty of his worldview and by the historical connection between the peoples of Cuba and Africa The principle of international solidarity socialism and the emancipation of Africa was a much desired aspiration and attainment Beginning covertly in Algeria in 1961 and the Congo and Guinea Bissau in 1964 and more conspicuously in Angola in 1975 Fidel Castro and his socialist government was at the forefront supporting liberation movements in their struggle against colonialism Defining Castro's engagement with Africa was his support for the People's Movement for the Liberation of Angola MPLA against the United States backed Apartheid South Africa which supported the National Liberation Front of Angola FNLA and the National Union for the Total Independence of Angola UNITA Africa, Asia, and South America Since 1800 A. Radoslav Yordanov, 2024-07-16 In the immediate aftermath of its successful revolution Cuba was heralded by socialist nations as the vanguard of communism in Latin America in the early 1960s But by the late 1980s Cuba's inability to adopt the modes of socialist planning and Mikhail Gorbachev's reforms had deeply soured the relationship between Havana and the Soviet led socialist bloc While secondary literature often highlights Cuba's political and economic relations with Washington and Moscow Havana's ideological political and economic relations with the Eastern European states have received considerably less attention This book aims to fill this gap by offering a detailed chronological account of how Cuba's post revolutionary development was influenced by Eastern European diplomats Outside of their roles as representatives of their respective states Eastern European diplomats were entrusted with the task of educating local Cuban leadership in the intricacies of Marxism Leninism steering Cuba's governors onto the correct path of development helping them eradicate erroneous ideas of economic development and showing them the validity of socialist morals and ideology By considering these developments and analyzing firsthand accounts of Eastern European diplomats' experiences in Havana historian Radoslav Yordanov reconstructs the thinking of Eastern European diplomats and specialists in their dealings with Cuba from the 1959 Cuban revolutionary victory to the 1991 dissolution of the Soviet Union shedding new light on Cuba's role in the global Cold War

Rivalry and Alliance Politics in Cold War Latin America Christopher Darnton, 2014-06-30 The success or failure of foreign policy initiatives in Latin America is heavily influenced by bureaucratic and military background players Rivalry and Alliance Politics in Cold War Latin America Christopher Darnton's comparative study of the nature of conflict between Latin American states during the Cold War provides a counterintuitive and shrewd explanation of why diplomacy does or doesn't work Specifically he develops a theory that shows how the parochial interests of state bureaucracies can overwhelm national leaders foreign policy initiatives and complicate regional alliances His thorough evaluation of several twentieth century Latin American conflicts covers the gamut of diplomatic disputes from border clashes to economic provocations to regional power struggles Darnton examines the domestic political and economic conditions that contribute either to rivalry continued conflict or rapprochement diplomatic reconciliation while assessing the impact of U.S. foreign policy Detailed case studies provide not only a robust test of the theory but also a fascinating tour of Latin American history and Cold War politics including a multilayered examination of Argentine Brazilian strategic competition and presidential summits over four decades three rivalries in Central America following Cuba's 1959 revolution and how the 1980s debt crisis entangled the diplomatic affairs of several Andean countries These questions about international rivalry and rapprochement are of particular interest to security studies and international relations scholars as they seek to understand what defuses regional conflicts creates stronger incentives for improving diplomatic ties between states and builds effective alliances The analysis also bears fruit for contemporary studies of counterterrorism in its critique of parallels between the Cold War and the Global War on Terror its examination of failed rapprochement efforts between Algeria and Morocco and its assessment of obstacles

Kempton, 1989-05-15 This study is the first significant work to examine Soviet involvement with national liberation movements NLMs in Africa as a separate subcategory of Soviet foreign policy in the developing world The text compares and contrasts actual Soviet behavior with declared policy Daniel R Kempton presents three case studies the African National Congress ANC in South Africa The Movimento Popular de Libertacao de Angola MPLA and the Zimbabwe African People s Union ZAPU These cases trace the development of the Soviet Union s ties to the national liberation movements the amount and types of assistance provided and the impact of the relationship on the national liberation movements General analysts of international relations analysts of Soviet foreign policy and Africanists will find this a valuable resource The author contends that during the 1960s and 1970s the Soviet Union pursued a common strategy toward all three national liberation movements Although the strategy was applied flexibly to take into account the idiosyncracies of the individual liberation struggles in each case the Soviet Union pushed the national liberation movement to adopt the Soviet political model The Soviet view was that the adoption of this model would eventually lead to the development of relatively more stable and dependable allies Since 1980 however in each case there is significant evidence that the Soviet Union has altered markedly if not abandoned its previous strategy      Bowker's Law Books and Serials in Print , 1986      Unisa Latin American Report , 2004      Towson State Journal of International Affairs , 1986      Southern Africa in Crisis : Regional and International Responses International Peace Academy, 1988-06-17      Castro's "special Period in a Time of Peace" , 1990
