A History of Police Firearms Units Stephen Wynn, 2026-01-30 The role of the police firearms officers is possibly one of the most thankless jobs there is in a non military environment Home Office figures for March 2022 to March 2023 show there were 6 038 police officers throughout England and Wales who were authorised to carry firearms for operational purposes out of a total of 149 572 officers overall the culmination of a four year decline in firearms officers from a peak of 6 621 in March 2019 Being a firearms officer carries a kudos in policing although why this is the case is not absolutely clear especially when considering the real risk of either being shot dead shooting somebody and being charged with their murder or not shooting somebody and it resulting in the death of a colleague or a member of the public In the late 1960s and early 1970s the police s use of firearms was far removed from what it is today Nominated officers were allowed to draw firearms on an as and when basis and would undertake firing practice on only a few occasions throughout the course of the year with little or no thought or consideration given to tactical approaches to a particular scenario However the change in attitudes by senior officers to firearms can be traced back to the August 1966 murders of three Metropolitan police officers by two armed criminals close to Wormwood Scrubs prison in west London This book looks at the history of police firearms units which started to be formed in the immediate aftermath of the 1966 killings and how they have subsequently evolved improving in the selection of suitable officers along with the weaponry and equipment used and the training provided to the officers who volunteer for this extremely dangerous and stressful role Document Retrieval Index ,1974 Lethal Force and New Zealand Police Richard S. Shortt, 2022-08-22 This book challenges the notion that the New Zealand Police are one of only four global police services that does not have routinely armed officers using arguments and facts drawn from 2000 to 2019 a period of important change for the organisation and its relationship with firearms particularly following the outrages of the Christchurch mosques terrorist massacres in 2019 and the 2020 shooting death of a young police constable in Aotearoa New Zealand This book provides a brief history of the Police from its beginnings to the present day with a specific focus on its relationship with firearms which contextualize the law that justifies use of lethal force in a country that has abolished the death penalty It examines police policies procedures training and structures governing deployment and use of firearms in Aotearoa New Zealand and the independent oversight that now applies to fatal and non fatal shootings by Police Using 43 publicly released oversight agency reports and data directly related to police shootings such as who is being shot this book investigates how the police are using lethal force who is being affected and what this might mean for the service with regards to the operational deployment of firearms and the potential for use of lethal force within the community into the future The Arizona Gun Owner's Guide Alan Korwin, 1994 A Guide to Data Sources on Police Bills of Rights ,1981 Policeman's Monthly ,1919 Report of the Commissioner of Police for the Year Ended 30th June ... South Australia.
