Framework Alien Invasion Fiction:

Caribbean Inhospitability Natalie Lauren Belisle, 2025-02-14 The Caribbean has a global reputation for extending unparalleled hospitality to foreign guests. Yet local citizens express feeling alienated from the Caribbean nations they call home. Here Natalie Lauren Belisle probes the relationship between these incompatible narratives of Caribbean life. Departing from tourist centered critiques of the Caribbean's visitor economy, Belisle instead gives primacy to the political life of the Caribbean citizen subject within a broader hospitality regime. Reading literary, cinematic and digital texts that traverse the Spanish, Anglophone and Francophone Caribbean, Belisle interprets citizens' estrangement through misdirected political deliberation and demonstrates that inhospitality is institutionalized through the aesthetic reproducing itself in the laws that condition belonging and membership in the nation state. Ultimately, Caribbean Inhospitability recasts the decay of nation state sovereignty in the postcolonial Caribbean within the contours of neoliberalism, international relations and cosmopolitanism.

The Cultural Imaginary of Terrorism in Public Discourse, Literature, and Film Michael Frank, 2017-06-14 This study investigates the overlaps between political discourse and literary and cinematic fiction, arguing that both are informed by and contribute to the cultural imaginary of terrorism. Whenever mass mediated acts of terrorism occur, they tend to trigger a proliferation of threat scenarios not only in the realm of literature and film but also in the statements of policymakers, security experts and journalists. In the process, the discursive boundary between the factual and the speculative can become difficult to discern. To elucidate this phenomenon, this book proposes that terror is a halfway house between the real and the imaginary. For what characterizes terrorism is less the single act of violence than it is the fact that this act is perceived to be the beginning or part of a potential series and that further acts are expected to occur. As turn of the century writers such as Stevenson and Conrad were the first to point out, this gives terror a fantastical dimension, a fact reinforced by the clandestine nature of both terrorist and counter terrorist operations. Supported by contextual readings of selected texts and films from The Dynamiter and The Secret Agent through late Victorian science fiction to post 9/11 novels and cinema, this study explores the complex interplay between actual incidents of political violence, the surrounding discourse and fictional engagement with the issue to show how terrorism becomes an object of fantasy. Drawing on research from a variety of disciplines, The Cultural Imaginary of Terrorism will be a valuable resource for those with interests in the areas of Literature and Film, Terrorism Studies, Peace and Conflict Studies, Trauma Studies and Cultural Studies.

better job of getting it right than ever before Grounded in the real word and often cutting edge science and technology that inspires fictional science the authors survey Hollywood depictions of topics such as quantum mechanics parallel universes and alien worlds Including material from interviews with over two dozen writers producers and directors of acclaimed science themed productions as well as scientists science fiction authors and science advisors Hollyweird Science examines screen science fiction from the sometimes conflicting vantage points of storytellers researchers and viewers Including a foreword by Eureka co creator and executive producer Jaime Paglia and an afterword by astronomer and science fiction author Michael Brotherton Ph D this book is accessible to all readers from the layperson to the armchair expert to the professional scientist and will delight all of them equally Building Bridges between Cultures in Ian McDonald's Science Fiction Jerome Winter,2025-09-18 This book is a career long retrospective of the Irish writer Ian McDonald and his complex compelling representation of our contemporary global condition Ian McDonald is a celebrated writer within the science fiction community whose rich and urgent body of works span over a quarter of a century The author claims McDonald s work functions as vital troubling allegories which both refuse the Orientalist euphemizing of colonial atrocities while still at the same time envisioning a transformative global alterity seeking an ethical and political embrace of systematically silenced subaltern voices in the neoliberal world system The book follows McDonald as the globe trotting writer travels from Ireland to Kenya to India to Brazil to Turkey to a proliferating multiverse and beyond Along the way the author analyzes McDonald s science fiction as a salient contribution to the flourishing cosmopolitan literature of postcolonial developing nations at the crossroads of the global imaginary The Splintering Frame William J. Scheick,1984 The notion that Wells s best work includes some of his later discursive novels of ideas might seem perverse This focuses on Wells s fiction of the 1920s and 1930s and its goal is to deepen appreciation of Wells as a literary artist Any consideration of Wells s artistry necessarily entails a consideration of his ideas and this book focuses primarily on his concept of time and of the human will
