This book offers important resources and support for teacher educators and graduate students to explore alternative visions for aligning university methods courses with current trends in English and cultural studies critical sociocultural literacy new literacies and web 2.0 tools and teaching the English language arts in multiethnic multilingual and underserved urban communities.

Prioritizing the Common Core Larry Ainsworth, 2013 The consensus among educators nationwide is that in depth instruction paired with focused assessment of essential concepts and skills are far more effective than superficially covering every concept and skill in the standards. Educators are faced with the task of teaching all standards while meeting the extraordinary range of student learning needs. Prioritizing the Common Core offers common sense solutions to the dilemmas teachers face today in implementing the new more rigorous national standards. Chapters present a rationale for prioritizing the Common Core a step by step process for prioritizing standards in language arts and mathematics strategies for soliciting feedback and input from everyone in the district or school prior to the final determination of the Priority Standards and detailed summaries of the process schools in six different districts used to identify their Priority Standards with accompanying commentary by those who directed the work Getting Started with Rigorous Curriculum Design Larry Ainsworth, 2013 School districts are now successfully implementing the Rigorous Curriculum Design process to redesign their curricula to fulfill the promise of the Common Core and prepare students for success on the coming national assessments. Each chapter of Getting Started With Rigorous Curriculum Design will provide educators with collective wisdom insights and ideas to enrich and expand understandings they may not have yet come to on their own Common Core Standards for Middle School English Language Arts Susan Ryan (Education standards consultant), Dana Frazee, 2012 Here middle school English teachers and school leaders will find information they need to begin adapting their practices to ensure all students master the new and challenging material contained in the standards Teaching History and the Changing Nation State Robert Guyver, 2016-02-11 Capitalizing on the current movement in history education to nurture a set of shared methodologies and perspectives this text looks to break down some of the obstacles to transnational understanding in history focusing on pedagogy to embed democratic principles of inclusion inquiry multiple interpretations and freedom of expression. Four themes which are influencing the broadening of history education to a globalized community of practice run throughout Teaching History and the Changing Nation State pedagogy democracy and dialogue the nation politics and transnational dimensions landmarks with questions shared histories shared commemorations and re evaluating past denials. The contributors use the same pedagogical language in a global debate about history teaching and learning to break down barriers to search for shared histories and mutual understanding They explore contemporary topics including The Gallipoli Campaign in World War I transformative approaches to a school history curriculum and the nature of federation
