Egan, Harvey D., SJ

Converted Robert Barr:

Converted Robert Barr, 2015-02-11 This early work by Robert Barr was originally published in 1896 and we are now republishing it with a brand new introductory biography Converted follows the story of the Black Baron and his sixteen knights and the awful message from the Holy Father the Pope Robert Barr was born on 16th September 1849 in Glasgow Scotland but he and his parents emigrated to Upper Canada when he was just four years old He attended Toronto Normal School to train as a teacher and this career path led him to become headmaster of the Central School of Windsor Ontario During his time as a headteacher he began to contribute short stories to the Detroit Free Press a publication for whom he left the teaching profession to become a staff member in 1876 He wrote for them under the pseudonym Luke Sharp a name he found amusing on a sign reading Luke Sharpe Undertaker that he used to pass on his daily commute to work In 1881 he left Canada for London to establish a weekly English edition of the Detroit Free Press He remained in England to found The Idler a monthly magazine he collaborated on with the popular humourist Jerome K Jerome Robert Barr died from heart disease on October 21 1912 at his home in Woldingham a small village to the south east of London

Understanding Religious Conversion Lewis Ray Rambo, 1993-01-01 Looking at a wide variety of religions this work offers an exploration of religious conversion The phenomena is approached from a variety of disciplines including psychology sociology theology and anthropology

An/Other Praxis Herry M. Mukdani, 2013-12-01 Today's ecclesial praxis has to add something to human capacity in order for the church to envision itself whole This book addresses multiple struggles as creative acts theologically for rethinking a possibly constructive ecclesial praxis that addresses God's new creation in its relation to God's people By examining it in broader paradigms Herry Mukdani proposes an Other praxis as a critical option for ecclesial freedom An Other Praxis searches not only new impulses for theological practices but the extension of voices from the margins that have contributed both to fresh ideas and to new opportunities for life It also demands ecclesial praxis to put all existing voices into account and responsibly re-discover the subaltern or subordinated others Thus this praxis helps the subaltern communities of faith claim their own identities as border crossers in the midst of cultural and religious plurality They will be active subjects of new theological productions from and for the church They are able to prove theological creativity possible today that expands beyond its ecclesial limits An Other Praxis will be of interest to readers not merely because they want to learn something beyond the existing forms of praxis Rather it will always give them refreshing energies capable of making rich and sometimes risky responses to the ministry possible and real It will also give them attitude and perspective to improve a culturally diverse conversation in theology and thus it adds diversity in ministry and leadership in today's church

Pearson's Magazine, 1896 Freedom, Necessity, and the Knowledge of God Paul D. Molnar, 2021-12-30 Paul D Molnar discusses issues related to the concepts of freedom and necessity in trinitarian doctrine He considers the implications of non-conceptual knowledge of God by comparing the approaches of Karl Rahner and T F Torrance He also reconsiders T F

Torrance's new natural theology and illustrates why Christology must be central when discussing liberation theology. Further, he explores Catholic and Protestant relations by comparing the views of Elizabeth Johnson, Walter Kasper, and Karl Barth, as well as relations among Christians, Jews, and Muslims by considering whether it is appropriate to claim that all three religions should be understood to be united under the concept of monotheism. Finally, he probes the controversial issues of how to name God in a way that underscores the full equality of women and men and how to understand universalism by placing Torrance and David Bentley Hart into conversation on that subject.

The Reality of Love Ingvild Rosok, 2018-01-12 Love is one and love is all we need. This book argues against the traditional theological view that God's love differs from human love. If God is love and love is one, we will find God embodied in all kinds of genuine love experiences. By analyzing Karl Rahner's theology of love, the author explores how God penetrates and embraces the whole of reality, suggesting implications for Christian spirituality and spiritual direction.

Rethinking Catholic Theology Egan, Harvey D., SJ, Rethinking Catholic Theology: From The Mystery of Existence to the New Creation provides readers with an intelligent, informed, critical grasp of at least the central truths of the Catholic Christian tradition. It aims to help readers to rethink more deeply these essential truths and, moreover, in what specific ways the understanding of the Catholic faith has changed and/or remained the same since Vatican II. The first part centers on Jesus Messiah and the mystery of existence. It delineates how his life, death, resurrection, as transformed physicality and ascension usher in the kingdom of God and best answer the questions: Who am I? Who are we? Where did we come from and where are we ultimately headed? What is the meaning of it all? The second part focuses on how Pentecost, the Trinity, the Church, the Scriptures, the Sacraments, Christian life itself, Mariology, the Communion of Saints, and Christian mysticism shed light on the mystery of existence. It demonstrates how the church flows intrinsically and naturally from the person of Jesus Christ and how the Scriptures and the sacraments likewise arise intrinsically and naturally from the church. Part three stresses, considers various views of afterlife, mainly from the Judeo-Christian tradition. It raises difficult after-death questions such as individual and general judgment, the intermediate state, the nature of the soul after death, Limbo, and Purgatory. Finally, it outlines the idea of Jesus's Second Coming and considers such concepts as Deep Incarnation and the New Creation.
