Computational Text Analysis Soumya Raychaudhuri, 2006-01-26

This book brings together the two disparate worlds of computational text analysis and biology and presents some of the latest methods and applications to proteomics, sequence analysis and gene expression data. Modern genomics generates large and comprehensive data sets, but their interpretation requires an understanding of a vast number of genes, their complex functions and interactions. Keeping up with the literature on a single gene is a challenge in itself for thousands of genes; it is simply impossible. Here, Soumya Raychaudhuri presents the techniques and algorithms needed to access and utilize the vast scientific text, i.e., methods that automatically read the literature on all the genes. Including background chapters on the necessary biology, statistics and genomics, in addition to practical examples of interpreting many different types of modern experiments, this book is ideal for students and researchers in computational biology, bioinformatics, genomics, statistics and computer science
