Closely Observed Infants:

Closely Observed Infants Lisa Miller, 1989 Encountering primitive anxieties Psychoanalytic theory and infant development Observing infants reflections on methods Developments in Infant Observation Susan Reid, 1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Infant Observation and Research Cathy Urwin, Janine Sternberg, 2012 Psychoanalytic infant observation is frequently used in training psychoanalytic psychotherapists and allied professionals but increasingly its value as a research method is being recognised particularly in understanding developmental processes in vulnerable individuals and groups This book explores the scope of this approach and discusses its strengths and limitations from a methodological and philosophical point of view Infant Observation and Research uses detailed case studies to demonstrate the research potential of the infant observation method Divided into three sections this book covers infant observation as part of the learning process how infant observation can inform understanding and influence practice psychoanalytic infant observation and other methodologies Throughout the book Cathy Urwin Janine Sternberg and their contributors introduce the reader to the nature and value of psychoanalytic infant observation and its range of application This book will therefore interest a range of mental health practitioners concerned with early development and infants emotional relationships as well as academics and researchers in the social sciences and humanities Infant Observation Frances Thomson-Salo, 2018-05-11 Seminal and representative papers have been chosen to illustrate the vital importance of infant observation in psychoanalytic training tracing influences on the practice of infant observation and contemporary developments The book outlines the thinking that has evolved since Esther Bick's introduction of this innovative component in Tavistock child psychotherapy and British Psychoanalytical Society training Child as Method Erica Burman, 2024-03-19 In this vital volume Erica Burman presents a synthesis of her work developed over the past decade Building from her path breaking critiques of developmental psychology to the strategy of plural developments her more recent work elaborates a new approach generated from postcolonial feminist intersectionality and migration studies Child as method This text amplifies the Child as method's success as a distinct way of exploring the alignments of current new materialist or posthumanist approaches with supposedly older materialist analyses including Marxist theory feminist theory anticolonial approaches and psychoanalytic perspectives It assumes that childhood is a material practice both undertaken by children themselves and by those who live and work with them as well as by those who define politics policies and popular culture about children Key chapters interrogate historical legacies arising from the Eurocentric origins of what are now globalised models of modern childhood and evaluate the problems posed by the structure of emotion and affectivity that surrounds children and childhood by tracing its evolution and indicating some of its unhelpful current effects in recentring white Majority world subjectivities Child as Method provides key contributions to a range of disciplines and debates including developmental psychology critical childhood studies education studies legal studies health and social care and literature Young Child Observation Simonetta M. G. Adamo, Margaret Rustin, 2014 Observing young children at play is an everyday and often fascinating and pleasurable experience for many of us It also has a great pedigree in the development of psychoanalysis from Freud's observation of his grandson's game with the cotton reel onwards This book describes the practice of observing young children in home and nursery settings in a systematic and non-intrusive way in order to expand our understanding of their emotional cognitive and social development It uses a psychoanalytic lens to enrich the meaning of what is seen How do minds and personalities take shape How can we train people to see what is most relevant in helping children to develop The chapters range from classic papers by famous practitioners of an older generation to observations completed in recent years in the UK Europe and the US Observation of this sort has also spread to Latin America India Australia Africa and the Far East The differences and continuities with Infant Observation are the starting point Learning and Teaching in Social Work Margaret Yelloly, 1995 This book addresses contemporary themes in the professional education of social workers The contributors raise important questions about the nature and purpose of professional social work practice in a modern changing and complex society The diseases of infancy and childhood Luther Emmett Holt, John Howland, 1916 The Journal of Obstetrics and Gynaecology of the British Empire, 1912

Diseases of infants and children Henry Dwight Chapin, 1911 The Obstetrical Quiz for Nurses Hilda Elizabeth Carlson, 1915 Special Report Series Medical Research Council (Great Britain), Special Report Series (Medical Research Council (Great Britain)), 1922 New York Medical Journal, and Philadelphia Medical Journal, 1915 Studies of the Values of Different Grades of Milk in Infant Feeding Robert Mann Washburn, Charles Howland Jones, 1916 A Treatise on Syphilis in New-born Children and Infants at the Breast Paul Diday, Frederic Russell Sturgis, 1883 Obstetrics for nurses Joseph Bolivar De Lee, 1910 A Treatise on syphilis in new-born children and infants at the breast Charles Joseph Paul Edouard Diday, 1883 Principles and practice of infant feeding Julius Hays Hess, 1919 Principles and Practice of Infant Feeding Julius H. Hess, 1922 Collected Papers Lister Institute of Preventive Medicine, 1923
