Information Modeling for Interoperable Dimensional Metrology Y Zhao,T Kramer,Robert Brown,Xun

Xu,2011-08-28 Dimensional metrology is an essential part of modern manufacturing technologies but the basic theories and measurement methods are no longer sufficient for today s digitized systems The information exchange between the software components of a dimensional metrology system not only costs a great deal of money but also causes the entire system to lose data integrity Information Modeling for Interoperable Dimensional Metrology analyzes interoperability issues in dimensional metrology systems and describes information modeling techniques It discusses new approaches and data models for solving interoperability problems as well as introducing process activities existing and emerging data models and the key technologies of dimensional metrology systems Written for researchers in industry and academia as well as advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students this book gives both an overview and an in depth understanding of complete dimensional metrology systems By covering in detail the theory and main content techniques and methods used in dimensional metrology systems Information Modeling for Interoperable Dimensional Metrology enables readers to solve real world dimensional measurement problems in modern dimensional metrology practices Tool and Manufacturing

Cubberly,Ramon Bakerjian,1989 The TMEH Desk Edition presents a unique collection of manufacturing information in one convenient source Contains selected information from TMEH Volumes 1 5 over 1 200 pages of manufacturing information A total of 50 chapters cover topics such as machining forming materials finishing coating quality control assembly and management Intended for daily use by engineers managers consultants and technicians novice engineers or students Automating Quality Systems J.D. Tannock,2012-12-06 Quality is a topical issue in manufacturing Competitive quality performance still eludes many manufacturers in the traditional industrialized countries A lack of quality competitiveness is one of the root causes of the relative industrial decline and consequent trade imbalances which plague some Western economies Many explanations are advanced for poor quality performance Inadequate levels of investment in advanced technology together with insufficient education and training of the workforce are perhaps the most prominent Some believe these problems are caused by a lack of awareness and commitment from top management while others point to differences between industrial cultures The established remedy is known as Total Quality Management TQM TQM requires a corporate culture change driven from the top and involving every employee in a process of never ending quality improvement aimed at internal as well as external customers The techniques deployed to achieve TQM include measures to improve motivation training in problem solving and statistical process control SPC Quality is however only one of the competitive pressures placed It is also upon the manufacturer by the modern global economy imperative to remain economical and efficient while increasing the flexibility and responsiveness of the design and manufacturing functions Here the reduction or elimination of stock is of great importance particularly as financial interest rates in the less successful manufacturing nations are frequently high Product life cycles must become ever more compressed in response to the phenomenal design to manufacture performance of some Pacific rim economies
