Sullivan,2015-09-02 Florence Nightingale is best known as a woman of action a founder of modern nursing a reformer in the field of public health and a pioneer in the use of statistics What is not generally appreciated is that Nightingale was deeply engaged in the religious and philosophical thought of her time and that the primary aim of her life was not to reform social institutions but to serve God Although Nightingale gave primacy to her spiritual life few of the books written about her have done so and until recently few of her own writings about religion have been published This failure to attend to Nightingale s spiritual life began to change during the 1980s most significantly with the 1994 publication of Suggestions for Thought her own presentation of her religious views At the heart of The Friendship of Florence Nightingale and Mary Clare Moore are forty seven letters written by Nightingale to Moore her Dearest Reverend Mother the founding superior of the Roman Catholic Sisters of Mercy in Bermondsey London ten letters written by Moore to Nightingale and five letters written by Nightingale about Clare to other Sisters of Mercy These letters illustrate the personal lives and spiritual struggles and aspirations of two highly influential women in Victorian England one working to achieve military and governmental reforms the other designing and implementing new church related services to the poor both bound together by their devotion to those who were neglected by nursing and other skills by mature Christian faith and by their engaging affection for one another The Encyclopedia of Medieval Literature in Britain, 4 Volume Set Sian truly say one lived Mansfield's biographers like her friends have wondered at the seemingly extraordinary decision to ditch conventional medicine for the bizarre choice of Gurdjieff's Institute for the Harmonious Development of Man at Fontainebleau. These letters show the clarity of mind and will that led to that decision, the courage and distress in making it, and the gaiety even once it was made. She went against what her education, her husband, and most of her friends would regard as reasonable as she opted to spend her last months with Russian migrants and a strange assortment of Gurdjieff disciples which she was not. But Fontainebleau gave her the space and the incentive to shake free from the intellectualism that she thought the malaise of her time as she worked at kitchen chores, took in the details of farm life, tried to learn Russian, and attempted to reach total honesty with herself. If I were allowed one simple cry to God, she wrote in one of her last letters, that cry would be I want to be REAL. Publisher
