Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1917 Russia and Latvia Andis Kudors, 2023-11-17 This book explores Russia's relations with Latvia arguing that Latvia with a higher proportion of Russian speakers than other Baltic states is especially vulnerable to Russia's sharp power The book highlights how authoritarian and totalitarian regimes are unable to exercise soft power based on the attractiveness of the country's culture and values which would help them gain the favour of the audience of the target countries but instead as in the case of Russia use public diplomacy compatriot policy media policy propaganda and disinformation to produce a destructive effect distorting the democracies of target countries and increasing national security risks The book provides in depth detail on how Russia is making use of this sharp power in Latvia examines the consequences and assesses the dangers for the future

Reframing Institutional Logics Alistair Mutch, 2018-10-09 How are we to characterise the context in which organisations operate The notion that organisational activity is shaped by institutional logics has been influential but it presents a number of problems. The criteria by which institutions are identified, the conflation of institutions with organisations, the enduring nature of those institutions and an exaggerated focus on change are all concerns that existing perspectives do not tackle adequately. This book uses the resources of historical work to suggest new ways of looking at institutional logics. It builds on the work of Roger Friedland who has conceived of institutional logics being animated by adherence to a core substance that is immanent in practices. Development of this idea in the context of organisation theory is supported by ideas drawn from the work of the social theorist Margaret Archer and the broader resources of the philosophical tradition of critical realism. Institutions are seen to emerge over time from the embodied relations of humans to each other and to the natural world on which they depend for material existence. Once emergent institutions develop their own logics and endure to form the context in which agents are involuntarily placed and that conditions their activity. The approach adopted offers resources to bring society back in to the study of organisations. The book will appeal to graduate students who are engaging with institutional theory in their research. It will also be of interest to scholars of institutional theory, of the history of organisations and those seeking to apply ideas from critical realism to their research.

Women and Pilgrimage E. Moore Quinn, Alison T. Smith, 2022-03-08

Women and Pilgrimage presents scholarly essays that address the lacunae in the literature on this topic. The content includes well trodden domains of pilgrimage scholarship like sacred sites and holy places. In addition, the book addresses some of the less well known dimensions of pilgrimage such as the performances that take place along pilgrims' paths, the ephemeral nature of identifying as a pilgrim and the economic, social and cultural dimensions of migratory travel. Most importantly, the book's feminist lens encourages readers to consider questions of authenticity, essentialism and even what it means to be a woman pilgrim. The volume's six sections are entitled: Questions of Authenticity, Performances and Celebratory Reclamations, Walking Out, Women Forging Their Own Paths, Women Saints, Their Influence and Their Power, Sacred Sites, Their Lineages and Their Uses, and Different Migratory Paths. Each section will enrich readers' knowledge of the experiences of pilgrim women. The book will be of interest to scholars of pilgrimage studies in general as well as those interested in women travel, tourism and the variety of religious experiences.

Christian Advocate, 1922 Colossae, Colossians, Philemon Alan H. Cadwallader, 2023-05-15. The material culture of Colossae is here for the first time given as full a collation as possible to the present day: 38 inscriptions, 88 coins and 49 testimonia are brought together in the context of a thorough overview of the site of Colossae. These include evidence that has been thought lost or has been overlooked or misinterpreted or has only recently been discovered. New readings, insights and analyses of the material evidence are brought into a highly creative exchange with the two letters of the Second Testament connected with the site. The texts thereby become additional evidence for an appreciation of the life of a city in the first two centuries of the Common Era. The fullest collation of evidence for the ancient Phrygian city in the Greco-Roman period was the coin catalogue assembled by Hans von Aulock 1987. The most recent catalogue of the inscriptions of Colossae was published by William Calder and William Buckler in 1939 There has never been a full inventory of ancient writings that bear witness to the site Alan H Cadwallader in his volume not only updates this material by subjecting it to thorough critical analysis in the light of comparative evidence from across the Roman province of Asia and the Mediterranean world New discoveries from the site and from museums and collections in the United Kingdom Europe Russia Australia and the United States are introduced Into this assemblage and interpretation are brought the letters to the Colossians and Philemon in the Second Testament writings of the Christian Church For the first time the letters are released to be players in the highly competitive environment of a city negotiating its way in the new realities of imperial Rome Here the letters and their recipients become participants in the society of the day contributing critiquing and struggling to forge an identity for the Christ followers within that world Echoes of the gymnasium gladiatorial spectacles cosmological speculations religious devotion and sanction family structures commerce and industry struggles for justice intercity competition and legal negotiations are found in the letters echoes that witness to their participation in the life of Colossae This is a radical new approach incorporating the turn to material culture as the embedding of literature and its consumers rather than an embellishing backdrop United States Documents in the Propaganda Fide Archives Academy of American Franciscan History,Finbar Kenneally,Catholic Church.
