Individual Directions: Place the Drawing Form in the portrait orientation in front of the examinee along with a pencil with an eraser. Say, I want you to draw a picture of yourself. Be sure to draw your whole body, not just your head, and draw how you look from the front, not from the side. Do not draw a cartoon or stick figure. Draw the very best picture of yourself that you can. Take your time and work carefully. Go ahead.

If the examinee draws a side view or only a head, repeat the instructions. A new Drawing Form may be provided if needed or requested. The examinee may erase as needed, but do not prompt the examinee to do so. However, if the examinee asks if it is okay to erase, respond in the affirmative.

Group Directions: Pass out the Drawing Forms to all examinees and demonstrate placement of the sheet in a portrait orientation. Be sure each examinee has a pencil with an eraser. Say, I want you to draw a picture of yourself. Be sure to draw your whole body, not just your head, and draw how you look from the front, not from the side. Do not draw a cartoon or stick figure. Draw the very best picture of yourself that you can. Take your time and work carefully. Now go ahead. Raise your hand if you have a question or when you complete your drawing.

Be sure to walk among the group and inspect the drawings. If an examinee is observed to draw a side view or only a head, repeat the instructions softly to the examinee. A new Drawing Form may be provided if needed or requested. Examinees may erase as needed, but do not prompt them to do so. However, if an examinee asks if it is okay to erase, respond in the affirmative. Once an examinee completes the drawing, be sure the name or ID number is on the Drawing Form, then collect the drawing. Do not wait to collect all the drawings at once.

Authentic Learning Michael L. Slavkin, 2004-04-02 Across the land, communities are questioning the role of schools and the community's expectations of parents, students, and teachers. Increasingly, educators struggle to convince administrators, parents, students, and community members that teaching strategies have strengthened and that students are improving. Yet teachers consistently share their concerns about the lack of parent and community involvement in education. Parents indicate their desire to improve the connections between the classroom and the community but are unsure how to initiate such relationships. In Authentic Learning, Michael L. Slavkin provides parents and educators the opportunity to understand why best practices, constructivism, student centered practices, student choice, and democratic classrooms are effective because they result in a variety of environmental experiences. Such experiences have often been thought to be the environmental foundation that supports and nurtures a creative and challenged brain, guiding children to think in a variety of ways, providing the flexibility of thought that is critical in the 21st century world. With this text, these two groups will discover ways they can work together to create meaningful learning experiences at home and school. For parents, students, and preservice and inservice teachers.
