EBOOK: Implementing Excellence in your Health Care Organization: Managing, Leading and Collaborating

Robert McSherry,Jerry Warr,2010-07-16 This second book in this practical introductory series on practice issues in healthcare explores the key issues and factors which influence the workings of a healthcare organisation and how these may be addressed through collaborative working and user focused care at an introductory and practical level The book will be presented in three sections Working in Organisations Collaborative working User Focused Care The emphasis of this second text is on how the organization and those who work within it contribute to both positively and negatively the excellence of the healthcare organization and the care it gives Rather than a theoretical tome on team working leadership and change management this book instead highlights and explores the tools and techniques that ALL healthcare staff need to be successful employees and managers delivering excellent care The authors will outline and examine the evidence available for all areas covered both to support and to critique excellence standards and give a lively and practical introduction to the key organizational factors of a healthcare setting Meaty topics abound including Management leadership ethics equity governance user involvement team working interprofessional excellence The focus on multiprofessional working will make this accessible to a variety of healthcare groups In keeping with the series the book will include case examples real life practice and reflective exercises as well as the theory needed to inform delivery of excellence Contributors Claire Brewis Dr Corrina Dickson Dr Lee Ann Fenge Karen Grimwood Dr Sarah Hean Vanessa Heaslip Jenny Kell Melaine McSherry Dr Sabi Redwood Lisa Smith Kevin Stubbings Jackie Tonkin Katie Tucker The Journal for Quality and Participation ,2008

Collaboration and System Coordination for Students with Special Needs Carol A. Kochhar-Bryant,2008 This book provides a comprehensive presentation of the power and promise of collaboration and system coordination connecting students professionals parents schools and community agencies in new ways Placing students with special needs and families in the center collaboration and system coordination are viewed from a developmental framework from early childhood through post high school The book perspective helps individuals understand the complex interplay between the needs of students and collaborative skill needs of professionals along the developmental path Key topics How school collaboration and system coordination work current laws that promote it with emphasis on IDEA 2004 and NCLB 2001 research that links collaboration with student and family outcomes skills for effective collaboration between general and special educators the role of families in school collaboration effects of cultural and linguistic diversity and strategies for effective collaboration and coordination from early childhood through post secondary education including alternative educational settings Case examples are threaded throughout as the book urges change in how professionals think about the way education and human services agencies should respond to students who are special learners Partnerships, New Labour and the Governance of Welfare Caroline Glendinning,Martin A. Powell,Kirstein Rummery,2002 Current policy encourages partnerships between statutory organisations and professionals public and private sectors with voluntary organisations and local communities But is this collaborative discourse really as distinctive as the Labour Government claims How far do contemporary partnerships exemplify an approach to governing which is based on networks as distinct from hierarchies and markets Partnerships New Labour and the governance of welfare provides an up to date critical analysis of partnerships addresses the highly topical theme of partnerships as the means of achieving joined up government presents empirical evidence from a wide range of welfare partnerships examines the relationships between local welfare partnerships and the management of those partnerships by central government reveals the imbalance of power which characterises many contemporary partnerships vbTab vbTab It is essential reading for academics and students of contemporary social and public policy and for those with an interest in networks and other theories of welfare governance
