Death Rituals, Social Order and the Archaeology of Immortality in the Ancient World Colin Renfrew, Michael J. Boyd, Iain Morley, 2015-11-19 Modern archaeology has amassed considerable evidence for the disposal of the dead through burials cemeteries and other monuments Drawing on this body of evidence this book offers fresh insight into how early human societies conceived of death and the afterlife The twenty seven essays in this volume consider the rituals and responses to death in prehistoric societies across the world from eastern Asia through Europe to the Americas and from the very earliest times before developed religious beliefs offered scriptural answers to these questions Compiled and written by leading prehistorians and archaeologists this volume traces the emergence of death as a concept in early times as well as a contributing factor to the formation of communities and social hierarchies and sometimes the creation of divinities

Figuring It Out Colin Renfrew, 2003-03-25 Where do we come from What are we Where are we going These questions were posed by Paul Gauguin in a famous canvas painted in Tahiti that heralded the beginning of the modernist era But they are also the questions asked by modern prehistorians in their quest to reconstruct the human story In Figuring It Out Colin Renfrew investigates the profound convergence between the two disciplines drawing illuminating parallels between the way the modern artist seeks to understand the world by acting upon it and the way the archaeologist seeks to understand the world through the material traces of such actions What does the sapient paradox the fact that 30 000 years passed before anatomically modern humans began to change their world have to tell us about the unfolding of the history of our species Why do we now find Cycladic sculpture beautiful when merely a century ago such work would not have been thought suitable for display in an art museum And how is it that in the light of Marcel Duchamp s revolutionary gallery based gestures the prehistoric footsteps at Laetoli have been admitted as art too albeit of an involuntary kind Professor Renfrew uses these questions as a springboard for his examination of the history of the human condition a subject that can only be properly understood he argues through the idea of process of Homo sapiens active material engagement with their world Central to his exploration is a group of leading contemporary artists including Richard Long Mark Dion Antony Gormley Eduardo Paolozzi and David Mach whose works are notable for just such an engagement with their physical surroundings Figuring It Out takes sculpture off the plinth and archaeology out of the trench and situates the contemporary artist and archaeologist together at the center of an active endeavor to re evaluate what it is to be human Prehistory Colin Renfrew,2008-08-19 In Prehistory the award winning archaeologist and renowned scholar Colin Renfrew covers human existence before the advent of written records which is to say the overwhelming majority of our time here on earth But Renfrew also opens up to discussion and even debate the term prehistory itself giving an incisive concise and lively survey of the past and how scholars and scientists labor to bring it to light Renfrew begins by looking at prehistory as a discipline particularly how developments of the past century and a half advances in archaeology and geology Darwin s ideas of evolution discoveries of artifacts and fossil evidence of our human ancestors and even more enlightened museum and collection curatorship have fueled continuous growth in our knowledge of prehistory He details how breakthroughs such as radiocarbon dating and DNA analysis have helped us to define humankind s past how things have changed much more clearly than was possible just a half century ago Answers for why things have changed however continue to elude us so Renfrew discusses some of the issues and challenges past and present that confront the study of prehistory and its investigators In the book s second part Renfrew shifts the narrative focus offering a summary of human prehistory from early hominids to the rise of literate civilization that is refreshingly free from conventional wisdom and grand unified theories The author s own case studies encompass a vast geographical and chronological range the Orkney Islands the Balkans the Indus Valley Peru Ireland and China and help to explain the formation and development of agriculture and centralized societies He concludes with a fascinating chapter on early writing systems From Prehistory to History In this invaluable brief account of human development prior to the last four millennia Colin Renfrew delivers a meticulously researched and passionately argued chronicle about our life on earth and our ongoing quest to understand it Before Civilization Colin Renfrew,1990 The refinement of radiocarbon dating using the information from tree ring counts has raised serious doubts about the accepted theoretical framework of European pre history Records are being almost completely rewritten in the light of these new dates ARCHAEOLOGY AND WOMEN Sue Hamilton,Ruth D Whitehouse,Katherine I Wright,2007-05-15 Introduction Sue Hamilton Ruth D Whitehouse Katherine I Wright THE STUDY OF GENDER AND WOMEN IN ARCHAEOLOGY 1 Gender Archaeology and Archaeology of Women Do We Need Both Ruth D Whitehouse 2 On Gender Negotiation and its Materiality Marie Louise Stig S rensen WOMEN IN ARCHAEOLOGY 3 Winifred Lamb Her First Year as a Student at the British School at Athens David W J Gill 4 Pioneers in Palestine the Women Excavators of El Wad Cave 1929 Jane Callander and Pamela Jane Smith 5 Marija Gimbutas Setting the Agenda Ernestine S Elster 6 Women in Practice Women in British Contract Field Archaeology Sue Hamilton 7 Gender in Experimental Archaeology Steve Townend 8 Warriors and Weavers Constructing Iron Age Identities in Museums Sue Ballard

From Stonehenge to Mycenae John Barrett, Michael J. Boyd, 2019-06-13 This book reconsiders how we can understand archaeology on a grand scale by abandoning the claims that material remains stand for the people and institutions that produced them or that genetic change somehow caused cultural change Our challenge is to understand the worlds that made great projects like the building of Stonehenge or Mycenae possible The radiocarbon revolution made the old view that the architecture of Mycenae influenced the building of Stonehenge untenable But the recent use of big data and of genetic histories have led archaeology back to a worldview where big problems are assumed to require big solutions Making an animated plea for bottom up rather than top down solutions the authors consider how life was made possible by living in the local and materially distinct worlds of the period By considering how people once built connections between each other through their production and use of things their movement between and occupancy of places and their treatment of the dead we learn about the kinds of identities that people constructed for themselves Stonehenge did not require an architect from Mycenae for it to be built but the builders of Stonehenge and Mycenae would have shared a mutual recognition of the kinds of humans that they were and the kinds of practices these monuments were once host to

Ranking, Resource and Exchange Colin Renfrew, Steven Shennan, 1982-09-02 Ranked societies are characterized by disparities in personal status that are often accompanied by the concentration of power and authority in the hands of a few dominant individuals They stand between the sophistication of developed states and the relative simplicity of most hunter gatherer groups and early agriculturalists In some places and times they represented relatively brief phases of transition to more complex forms of organization in others they existed as stable forms of adaptation for thousands of years They are thus of great interest for archaeologists seeking to understand the dynamics of cultural evolution
