midst of significant shifts encompassing everything from climate change to the rapid advancements in Artificial Intelligence. These transformations impact the fabric of everyday human lives and society as a whole. In this context, design emerges as a crucial player offering a pivotal role in navigating these changes to foster a balanced and just world. This conference edition therefore has the theme of Responsible and Resilient Design for Society, underscoring the importance of adopting approaches that contribute to building a resilient society while acknowledging the responsibilities that come with being designers and researchers. The book will be of interest to researchers, professionals, and entrepreneurs working in the areas of industrial design, manufacturing, consumer goods, and industrial management who are interested in the new and emerging methods and tools for design of new products, systems, and services.

Reading, Writing, and Gender Gail Lynn Goldberg, Barbara Roswell, 2013-09-13. Like an increasing number of educators, you recognize that girls and boys approach reading and writing differently and that boys are lagging behind girls in many assessments of literacy learning. This book does more than describe and explain these differences. It builds on the authors' state-of-the-art research to offer instructional strategies and classroom activities to help both girls and boys develop as readers and writers. This book is for classroom teachers in grades 3-8 as well as for reading specialists, instructional leaders, and other educators. It provides detailed descriptions of instructional activities accompanied by reproducible tools and materials, illustrative examples of student work, concise summaries of state-of-the-art research, and ideas for action research projects. The strategies and activities in this book have all been classroom tested with diverse student populations.
