Cli Fi Novel Stories:

Cli-Fi and Class Debra J. Rosenthal, Jason de Lara Molesky, 2023-10-09 Since its emergence in the late twentieth century climate fiction or cli fi has concerned itself as much with economic injustice and popular revolt as with rising seas and soaring temperatures Indeed with its insistent focus on redressing social disparities cli fi might reasonably be classified as a form of protest literature As environmental crises escalate and inequality intensifies literary writers and scholars alike have increasingly scrutinized the dual exploitations of the earth s ecosystems and the socioeconomically disadvantaged Cli Fi and Class focuses on the representation of class dynamics in climate change narratives With fifteen essays on the intersection of the economic and the ecological addressing works ranging from the novels of Joseph Conrad Cormac McCarthy and Octavia Butler to the film Black Panther and the Broadway musical Hadestown this collection unpacks the complex ways economic exploitation impacts planetary well being and the ways climatic change shapes those inequities in turn (Eco)Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate Fiction Dominika Oramus, 2023-07-07 Eco Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate Fiction Doomsday Clock Narratives demonstrates that disaster fiction nuclear holocaust and climate change alike allows us to unearth and anatomise contemporary psychodynamics and enables us to identify pretraumatic stress as the common denominator of seemingly unrelated types of texts These Doomsday Clock Narratives argue that earth s demise is soon and certain They are set after some catastrophe and depict people waiting for an even worse catastrophe to come References to geology are particularly important in descriptions of the landscape the emphasis falls on waste and industrial bric a brac which is seen through the eyes of a future posthuman archaeologist Their protagonists have the uncanny feeling that the countdown has already started and they are coping with both traumatic memories and pretraumatic stress Readings of novels by Walter M Miller Nevil Shute John Christopher J G Ballard George Turner Maggie Gee Paolo Bacigalupi Ruth Ozeki and Yoko Tawada demonstrate that the authors are both indebted to a century old tradition and inventively looking for new ways of expressing the pretraumatic stress syndrome common in contemporary society This book is written for an academic audience postgraduates researchers and academics specialising in British Literature American Literature and Science Fiction Studies Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction Jonathan Elmore, 2020-04-01 Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction is one of the first works to focus specifically on fiction s engagements with human driven extinction Drawing together a diverse group of scholars and approaches this volume pairs established voices in the field with emerging scholars and traditionally recognized climate fiction cli fi with texts and media typically not associated with Anthropocene fictions The result is a volume that both engages with and furthers existing work on Anthropocene fiction as well as laying groundwork for the budding subfield of extinction fiction This volume takes up the collective insistence on the centrality of story to extinction studies In various and disparate ways each chapter engages with the stories we tell about extinction about the extinction of animal and plant life and about the extinction of human life itself Answering the call to action of extinction studies these chapters explore what kinds of humanity caused this event and what kinds may live through it what cultural assumptions and values led to this event and which ones could lead out of it what relationships between human life and this planet allowed the sixth mass extinction and what alternative relationships could be possible

Reno, 2021-11-22 Perhaps no concept has become dominant in so many fields as rapidly as the Anthropocene Meaning The Age of Humans the Anthropocene is the proposed name for our current geological epoch beginning when human activities started to have a noticeable impact on Earth's geology and ecosystems Long embraced by the natural sciences the Anthropocene has now become commonplace in the humanities and social sciences where it has taken firm enough hold to engender a thoroughgoing assessment and critique Why and how has the geological concept of the Anthropocene become important to the humanities What new approaches and insights do the humanities offer What narratives and critiques of the Anthropocene do the humanities produce What does it mean to study literature of the Anthropocene These are the central questions that this collection explores Each chapter takes a decidedly different humanist approach to the Anthropocene from environmental humanities to queer theory to race illuminating the important contributions of the humanities to the myriad discourses on the Anthropocene This volume is designed to provide concise overviews of particular approaches and texts as well as compelling and original interventions in the study of the Anthropocene Written in an accessible style free from disciplinary specific jargon many chapters focus on well known authors and texts making this collection especially useful to teachers developing a course on the Anthropocene and students undertaking introductory research This collection provides truly innovative arguments regarding how and why the Anthropocene concept is important to literature and the humanities

Everything Change Angie Dell,Joey Eschrich,Barakat Akinsiku,Amanda Baldeneaux,J. R. Burgmann,Mason Carr,Scott Dorsch,Sigrid Marianne Gayangos,Kathryn E. Hill,Jules Hogan,Anya Ow,Natasha Seymour,2021-04-22 A collection of short stories by writers from around the world exploring the climate crisis and how human responses to it will shape the futures we will inhabit Featuring stories in styles ranging from science fiction and fabulism to literary fiction weird fiction and action thriller

all drawn from the 2020 Everything Change Climate Fiction Contest The contest and anthology are presented by the Imagination and Climate Futures Initiative at Arizona State University a partnership of the Center for Science and the Imagination and the Virginia G Piper Center for Creative Writing Climate Fiction and Cultural Analysis Gregers Andersen, 2019-09-25 Climate Fiction and Cultural Analysis argues that the popularity of the term climate fiction has paradoxically exhausted the term's descriptive power and that it has developed into a black box containing all kinds of fictions which depict climatic events and has consequently lost its true significance Aware of the prospect of ecological collapse as well as our apparent inability to avert it we face geophysical changes of drastic proportions that severely challenge our ability to imagine the consequences This book argues that this crisis of imagination can be partly relieved by climate fiction which may help us comprehend the potential impact of the crisis we are facing Strictly assigning climate fiction to fictions that incorporate the climatological paradigm of anthropogenic global warming into their plots this book sets out to salvage the term's speculative quality It argues that climate fiction should be regarded as no less than a vital supplement to climate science because climate fiction makes visible and conceivable future modes of existence within worlds not only deemed likely by science but which are scientifically anticipated Focusing primarily on English and German language fictions Climate Fiction and Cultural Analysis shows how Western climate fiction sketches various affective and cognitive relations to the world in its utilization of a small number of recurring imaginaries or imagination forms This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of ecocriticism the environmental humanities and literary and culture studies more generally
