Conversion In English A Cognitive Semantic Approach:

Conversion in English Sándor Martsa, 2014-07-18 Drawing on the conceptual metaphor and metonymy theory outlined in works by George Lakoff Ren Dirven G nter Radden and Zolt n K vecses Conversion in English A Cognitive Semantic Approach proposes that the process of conversion in contemporary English is basically a semantic process underlain by a series of conceptual metonymic and metaphoric mappings In the book previous interpretations treating conversion as zero derivation derivation by a zero affix or as syntactically motivated recategorization or as usage based coinage relisting are questioned for they apparently mistake the effect of conversion the obligatory change of word class for its cause the conceptual reanalysis of extralinguistic reality The book also demonstrates that viewing conversion as the result of conceptual mappings makes it possible to view this process as an instantiation of intercategory polysemy It also helps to settle the long standing debate concerning the issues of directionality and productivity of conversion

Semantics of Complex Words Laurie Bauer, Lívía Körtvélyessy, Pavol Štekauer, 2015-03-03 This volume offers a valuable overview of recent research into the semantic aspects of complex words through different theoretical frameworks Contributions by experts in the field both morphologists and psycholinguists identify crucial areas of research present alternative and complementary approaches to their examination from the current level of knowledge and indicate perspectives of research into the semantics of complex words by raising important questions that need to be investigated in order to get a more comprehensive picture of the field Recent decades have seen both extensive and intensive development of various theories of word formation however the semantic aspects of complex words have with a few notable exceptions been rather neglected This volume fills that gap by offering articles written by leading experts in the field from various theoretical backgrounds

Paradigms in Word Formation Alba E. Ruz, Cristina Fernández-Alcaina, Cristina Lara-Clares, 2022-09-15 The focus of Paradigms in Word Formation Theory and applications is on the relevance of paradigms for linguistic description Paradigmatic organization has traditionally been considered an inherent feature of inflectional morphology but research in the last decades clearly shows the existence of paradigms in word formation especially in affixal derivation often at the expense of other word formation processes This volume seeks to address the role that paradigms may play in the description of compounding conversion and participles This volume should be of interest to anyone specialized in the field of English morphology and word formation

Metonymy and Word-Formation Mario Brdar, 2018-01-23 This book deals with the interplay between word formation and metonymy It shows that like metaphor metonymy interacts in important ways with morphological structure but also warns us against a virtually unconstrained conception of metonymy The central claim here is that word formation and metonymy are distinct linguistic components that complement and mutually constrain each other Using linguistic data from a variety of languages the book provides ample empirical support for its thesis It is much more than a systematic study of two neglected linguistic phenomena for a long time thought to be unimportant by linguists Through exposing and explaining the intricate interaction between metonymy and word formation from a cognitive linguistic perspective the reader is presented with a sense of the amazing complexity of the development of linguistic systems This book will be essential reading for scholars and advanced students interested in the role of figuration in grammar English Lexicogenesis D. Gary Miller, 2014-02 This book investigates the processes by which novel words in English are coined adopted and adapted such as affixation compounding and clipping It looks at the interaction between word forming operations expressive morphology and language play and will appeal to all those interested in English etymology lexicography and morphology Competition in Word-Formation Alexandra Bagasheva, Akiko Nagano, Vincent Renner, 2024-05-15 This volume focuses on a number of interrelated issues in the theorizing and interpretation of morphological rivalry including the differences between a semasiological and an onomasiological approach to competition phenomena in word formation the scope of such phenomena micro level rivalry between individual affixes as well as macro level competition between different processes the different sources of competition and the possible resolutions of competitive situations An overview of existing research in the field is provided as well as new cutting edge findings and proposals for analytical innovation Linguistic data are drawn from European and Asian languages and morphologists semanticists and anyone interested in the dynamics of language will be stimulated by the analytical models and explanations offered in the 11 chapters Studies in Honour of Marianne Nikolov József Horváth, Péter Medgyes, 2014-02-21 A collection of studies in applied linguistics Studies in Language Variation and Change 2 Catherine Delesse, Elise Louvriot, 2018-06-11 This collection of eleven essays traces the complex paths of change taken by the English language in its long history from its Indo European origins to the present day Just like any other language English is a complex system made up of several interconnected sub systems lexical syntactical phonological morphological and all of those sub systems are subject to change resulting in constant shifts and readjustments Additionally more than some other languages English has a history marked by strong upheavals particularly with the influence of Scandinavian and Romance languages in the Middle Ages The contributions here consider all aspects of that complex history with four of them taking a particular interest in the issues brought about by language contact with French and Latin The Routledge Handbook of Second Language Acquisition, Morphosyntax, and Semantics Tania Ionin, Silvina Montrul, Roumyana Slabakova, 2024-03-11 This handbook provides innovative and comprehensive coverage of research on the second language acquisition SLA of morphosyntax semantics and the interface between the two Organized by grammatical topic the chapters are written by experts from formal and functional perspectives in the SLA of morphosyntax and semantics providing in depth yet accessible coverage of these areas All chapters highlight the theoretical underpinnings of much work in SLA and their links to theoretical syntax and semantics making comparisons to other populations including child language acquirers bilinguals and heritage speakers links to first language acquisition and bilingualism dedicating a portion of each chapter to the research methods used to investigate the linguistic phenomenon in question links to psycholinguistics and experimental linguistics and where relevant including intervention studies on the phenomenon in question links to applied linguistics The volume will be indispensable to SLA researchers and students who work on any aspect of the SLA of morphosyntax or semantics With its coverage of a variety of methodologies and comparisons to other populations such as child language acquirers early bilinguals heritage speakers and monolingual adults the handbook is expected to also be of much interest to linguists who work in psycholinguistics first language acquisition and bilingualism Cognitive Approaches to English Mario Brdar, Marija Omazić, Višnja Pavičić Takač, 2009 The present volume contains a selection of papers presented at the conference Cognitive Approaches to English an international event organized to mark the 30th anniversary of English studies at the Faculty of Philosophy Josip Juraj Strossmayer University Osijek which was held in Osijek on October 18 19 2007 The participants were invited to discuss issues in cognitive accounts of English ranging from fundamental to methodological to interdisciplinary and applied The volume is accordingly divided into four parts Part I Motivation in grammar deals with various phenomena in the grammar of English in the broadest sense of the term all of which are shown to be motivated by metaphorical and or metonymic operations Part II Constructing meaning between grammar and lexicon contains five chapters dealing with phenomena ranging from various peculiarities of form meaning pairings such as synonymy polysemy and figurative meanings to concept formation The four chapters that make up Part III are concerned with the phenomenon of interlinguistic and intercultural variation in the use of metaphorical and metonymic processes The volume is concluded by Part IV the three papers of which attempt to reconsider some TEFL issues from a cognitive linguistic point of view

Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts, 2008 Journal of Semantics, 1982 Approaches to Prepositions Gisa Rauh, 1991 The Linguistic Review, 1990 Cognitive Linguistics Today Barbara Lewandowska-Tomaszczyk, Kamila Turewicz, 2002 This volume contains papers presented at the first international cognitive linguistics conference in Poland Cognitive Linguistics in the Year 2001 organized by the Faculty of Philology of the University of Lodz on 19 23 April 2001 A number of invited papers are also included With this publication we intend to offer a survey of the problems taken up by Cognitive Linguistics today as well as some solutions The leading themes are interdisciplinarity applicability and research methodology in Cognitive Linguistics The issue of interdisciplinarity has always been part and parcel of cognitive linguistic studies in which different fields of science and humanities converge This context creates a certain tension within the research methods used in CL analysis some of which are dealt with in this volume The applicability of CL research findings to diverse fields such as literature culture studies language education and others involving a number of leading projects on the CL agenda are also represented in the volume Conceptology in Terminology Theory, Semantics and Word-formation Peter Weissenhofer, 1995 Language and Language Behavior Abstracts, 1982 Verb Semantics and Syntactic Structure Tarō Kageyama, 1997 Second Language Instruction/acquisition Abstracts, 1995 Acta Universitatis Lodziensis, 2001
