Grammatical Theory and Metascience

Esa Itkonen,1978-01-01 In this book the author analyses the nature of the science of grammar After presenting some methodological and historical background he sets forth a theory of language and of grammar showing that the science of grammar is not an empirical but a normative science comparable to logic and philosophy characterized by the use of the method of explication

Manual of Romance Phonetics and Phonology Christoph Gabriel,Randall Gess,Trudel Meisenburg,2021-11-22 This handbook is structured in two parts it provides on the one hand a comprehensive synchronic overview of the phonetics and phonology including prosody of a breadth of Romance languages and focuses on the other hand on central topics of research in Romance segmental and suprasegmental phonology including comparative and diachronic perspectives Phonetics and phonology have always been a core discipline in Romance linguistics the wide synchronic variety of languages and dialects derived from spoken Latin is extensively explored in numerous corpus and atlas projects and for quite a few of these varieties there is also more or less ample documentation of at least some of their diachronic stages This rich empirical database offers excellent testing grounds for different theoretical approaches and allows for substantial insights into phonological structuring as well as into incipient ongoing or concluded processes of phonological change The volume can be read both as a state of the art report of research in the field and as a manual of Romance languages with special emphasis on the key topics of phonetics and phonology

Task-Based Language Teaching in Foreign Language Contexts Ali Shehadeh, Christine A. Coombe, 2012 This volume extends the Task Based Language Teaching Issues Research and Practice books series by deliberately exploring the potential of task based language teaching TBLT in a range of EFL contexts It is specifically devoted to providing empirical accounts about how TBLT practice is being developed and researched in diverse educational contexts particularly where English is not the dominant language By including contributions from settings as varied as Japan China Korea Venezuela Turkey Spain and France this collection of 13 studies provides strong indications that the research and implementation of TBLT in EFL settings is both on the rise and interestingly diverse not least because it must respond to the distinct contexts constraints and possibilities of foreign language learning The book will be of interest to SLA researchers and students in applied linguistics and TESOL It will also be of value to course designers and language teachers who come from a broad range of formal and informal educational settings encompassing a wide range of ages and types of language learners

Communicative Competence Sandra J.
