Changing Geographies of Fashion in the European Semi-Periphery Monika Murzyn-Kupisz, 2026-01-01

Sustainability in fashion production and consumption is considered a major contemporary challenge and at the same time a visible trend in the fashion market Despite a growing body of academic literature on the topic detailed analyses have so far mainly pertained to only a selected dimension of the fashion market design production retail or consumption They have more often explored major fashion centres brands and firms rather than independent designers SMEs or independent fashion events and other alternative consumption means and spaces or less obvious intermediaries in the fashion market. Although the issue of sustainable fashion has been noticed in the academic discourse in Poland, it is yet to be examined bringing together the production and consumption side of the issue. Nor has the spatial dimension of fashion market transformation in Poland been analysed in detail. Taking a geographic perspective, this book fills this research gap by presenting a holistic approach to the fashion market including design, production and consumption of fashion, considering the social, cultural and spatial dimensions of the matter and diverse stakeholders who participate in it. Providing a comprehensive analysis of long term changes in the Polish fashion market, the book addresses several interesting issues. These include the extent to which the sustainable reorientation of the fashion market accompanies the broader processes of adaptation, restructuring and upgrading of the textile and clothing sector; how it fits into the broader logic of culturalisation of clothing production and commercialisation of design as an applied artistic genre and a part of the creative sector; and to what extent it is connected with new alternative consumption patterns with respect to channels, places and spaces of clothing purchases and re-use. The main premise of the book is that although it is still a relatively small part of the fashion market in Poland, sustainable fashion design, production and consumption is an increasingly important phenomenon with significant social, economic and spatial implications. The book therefore argues that sustainable design and production constitute a promising opportunity for adaptation, restructuring and upgrading of the textile and clothing sector in the European semi-periphery. Using the metaphor of the fashion ecosystem, it also illustrates how sustainable fashion practices contribute to the creation of new links and networks within the fashion industry alongside a more fragmented domestic production structure. Collecting Fashion Alexandra Carl, 2024-04-02. An indispensable survey of the most important archival collections assembled by fashion's key players. In order for fashion to march forward, it must possess the ability to look back. For the fashion obsessed, one's archive is surely a testament to the act of preservation and of course a sophisticated symbol of taste. Archives take time to build; wardrobes or storage units packed to the brim with rare archival shoes, dresses and handbags, some never worn, are only perfected after countless hours spent on Ebay and in the depths of obscured vintage sales. The results end up being remarkable representations of fashion history. This book gathers the preeminent collections of archival obsessives, capturing the closets of an impressive list of fashion and design talent. Readers will get an in-depth look at Michelle Lamé's extensive Comme des Garçons archive, Sarah Andelman's covetable and colorful sneaker and t-shirt collection, ENDYMA's growing Helmut Lang archive, Zaha Hadid's fabulous footwear assemblage and more. This tome, over 300 pages long, painstakingly showcases the subject's archive while showing off top-tier labels and hard-to-obtain seasons. Issey Miyake, Maison Martin Margiela, Thierry Mugler, John Galiano and Alexander McQueen among others, and serves as an indispensable reference for those interested in fashion history and building their own archive Essays throughout by leading thinkers and writers provide insightful commentary alongside each collection featured in this new enlightening fashion bible Fashion Communication in the Digital Age Paula von Wachenfeldt, Lorenzo Cantoni, Nadzeya Sabatini, Teresa Sádaba, 2025-11-18 This open access book presents papers from the fourth bi annual FACTUM Fashion Communication Conference a leading reference event in the field of fashion communication As one of the few academic gatherings of its kind worldwide the conference explores fashion communication from diverse perspectives The proceedings feature contributions from scholars specializing in communication and marketing management digital transformation cultural heritage and other related disciplines These proceedings aim to foster interdisciplinary theoretical and empirical research on the impact of communication practices on both the fashion industry and societal fashion related values and behaviors Specifically they seek to establish and strengthen an international interdisciplinary network of scholars in the field of fashion communication share innovative methodological approaches expand the dialogue between communication studies and fashion related disciplines and encourage junior researchers to pursue their academic interests in this dynamic field Additionally this book serves as a valuable resource for professionals in fashion communication and marketing providing access to rigorous research in a rapidly evolving domain driven by digital transformation Know it All, Find it Fast Robert John Duckett, Bob Duckett, Peter Walker, Christine Donnelly, 2008 There is a queue the phone is ringing the photocopier has jammed and your enquirer is waiting for a response You are stressed and you can feel the panic rising Where do you go to find the information you need to answer the question promptly and accurately Answering queries from users is one of the most important services undertaken by library and information staff Yet it is also one of the most difficult least understood subjects There are still very few materials available to help frontline staff often paraprofessional develop their reader enquiry skills This award winning sourcebook is an essential guide to where to look to find the answers quickly It is designed as a first point of reference for library and information practitioners to be depended upon if they are unfamiliar with the subject of an enquiry or wish to find out more It is arranged in an easily searchable fully cross referenced A Z list of around 150 of the subject areas most frequently handled at enquiry desks Each subject entry lists the most important information sources and where to locate them including printed and electronic sources relevant websites and useful contacts for referral purposes The authors use their extensive experience in reference work to offer useful tips warn of potential pitfalls and spotlight typical queries and how to tackle them This new edition has been brought right up to date with all sources checked for currency and many new ones added The searchability is enhanced by a comprehensive index to make those essential sources even easier to find saving you valuable minutes Readership Offering quick and easy pointers to a multitude of information sources this is an invaluable reference deskbook for all library and information staff in need of a speedy answer in reference libraries subject departments and other information units Fashion Accessories Since 1500 Geoffrey Warren, 1987 The Art of
