In many countries, there's a special process called immigration. Imagine you're on an adventure, traveling from one place to another, maybe from a city near a snowy mountain to a town by the sea. That's a bit like what immigrants do; they move from one country to another. Immigrants are people who make this big move. They might come from far away places with different languages, foods, and traditions. They bring their unique stories, just like a book filled with exciting tales from another land.

Now, why do people immigrate? Think of it as planting a tree in a new garden where it can grow better. Some people move for work, or to find a new job or a place to study, or to be closer to family. Others might move to be safe if their home country is going through tough times. Some people are seeking a safe place to live if their homeland is facing difficult times.

When immigrants arrive in their new country, they're like new students in a classroom. They learn new things, make friends, and share their own experiences. They might teach their new friends a game from their old home or cook a special meal for them.

Immigration makes the world like a beautiful patchwork quilt, with each piece representing different people and their cultures. It's like adding more colors to a painting, making it even more wonderful.

Immigrants are brave adventurers who start fresh, bringing their dreams and hopes to build a happy life in a new place. And just like friends at school, everyone works together to create a community where everyone belongs and can be their best selves.

Immigrants are friends who've traveled from afar, bringing gifts of their culture. Through immigration, our world becomes a collage of human experiences, each person adding their unique touch.
